PATTERSON DRAWS OUT OF THE RACE

Action of Tennessee Governor to Save the State to Democrats.

HE MAKES A PARTING SHOT

Turns the Matter Back to Democratic Party—Nominee of "Regular" Faction—Closes Stormy Political Career.

Nashville, Tenn., Sept. 10.—Governor M. R. Patterson tonight withdrew from the race to succeed himself as Governor of Tennessee. Gov. Patterson was the nominee of the "regular" faction of the Democratic party and has been bitterly opposed by the independent State-wide prohibition Democrats, who, in coalition with the Republicans, elected a State judiciary last month, defeating a ticket for which Governor Patterson made a strenuous campaign of the State.

On Tuesday next the independents meet here in State convention, a majority of the delegates coming instructed to vote for the endorsement of B. W. Hooper, the Republican nominee for Governor.

Gov. Patterson, in his address, announcing his withdrawal, declared he will not be an obstacle in the way of his party's success at the polls, nor will he willingly contribute in any way to the possibility of success of the Republicans in Tennessee. He withdraws in the interest of harmony and that Democratic factions may get together to prevent the loss of the State in November.

He makes reference to interference of a Republican President in Tennessee politics. In an interview following the issuance of the statement Governor Patterson declares that he has no personal preference in the matter of a Democratic nominee and that he will take the stump for him, whoever he may be. Patterson's political career has been a stormy one, including his defeat of former Senator E. W. Carmack for the gubernatorial nomination in a sensational campaign, followed by the killing of Carmack here by the Coopers, their trial which attracted nation-wide attention and Patterson's pardon of D. B. Cooper within a few minutes after his conviction was sustained by the Supreme Court.

Gov. Patterson gave the Associated Press representative the following signed statement tonight:

"To the Democrats of Tennessee:

"I became a candidate for Governor for the third term contrary to my personal wishes. A large majority of my friends, in their partial judgment, believed I could certainly win where others might fail, and that I owed an obligation to them, the party and the ideas which I represented, and I yielded my judgment and inclination with reluctance. Since then conditions have arisen which neither they nor I could foresee, which appear to make my further candidacy an injustice both to them and the Democratic party.

"When the opposition to me assumed the shape of a refusal to enter a primary called by the State Executive Committee, I proposed if any gentleman would offer any objection to me to allow him to select his own method and time of nomination with an equal division of officers of election. There was, and could not be, the slightest excuse to refuse this, if the party was to preserve its organization and not disintegrate into schisms and factions; but the proposition was rejected. I was declared the nominee for Governor, without opposition and since then I have offered to yield my nomination so as to test anew whether I was the choice of the majority believing that all men who loved fair dealing would recognize the right of the majority to rule, and not permit their personal spleen to over-ride all the obvious rules of justice and party fidelity.

"But to the minds of my ungenerous opponents all things were fair as means to the end of my political destruction. Guilty and unnatural political coalitions were forming and had been formed to bring this about. The basest appeals were made and the foulest slanders circulated. Even then I did not believe that any considerable number of Democrats could be betrayed from their allegiance, but that time would soften asperities and lead them back to a just realization of their own duties and the plight in which the criminal folly of their leaders would leave the party and the State.

"So it was, when rumors of my withdrawal were given currency I promptly denied them, and in doing so it was my wish to serve my party rather than my own ambition.

"Now it seems certain that my opinion, shared by friends, was not justified and that the continued appeals to passion and credulity have found a lodgment which neither fact nor persuasion can change, and that so long as I remain a candidate a considerable number of Democrats will not affiliate with the party, and while not large comparatively, it is enough to imperil Democratic success in November.

"I don't wish it said that my desire for office is responsible for this condition, or as furnishing an excuse to endorse a Republican candidate by the so called independent Democratic convention soon to be held in Nashville.

"My conclusion is that I can best

KEENEST RIVALRY AMONG AVIATORS

Wright and Curtiss Charm Spectators at Harvard-Boston Meet.

BROOKINS AFTER NEW RECORD

Englishman Delayed on Account of Disabling His Machine—Throwing Bombs at Mimic Battleship Featured the Day.

Boston, Sept. 10.—With Wilbur Wright and Glenn H. Curtiss, the keenest of rivals for supremacy in aviation both taking part in flights today, the 45,000 spectators at the Boston-Harvard Aero Meet saw some interesting performances.

Wright went up with Walter Brookins and assisted in throwing bombs at the mimic battleship target, while Curtiss tried out a new biplane, "The Flying Fish," which belongs to the Curtiss Company and Burgess of Marblehead. Curtiss had no difficulty in putting the biplane through its paces.

In the attempt to beat his own world's record for altitude of 6,160 feet, Walter Brookins mounted into the still, blue ether of the heavens to 5,300 feet. While the journey did not give him a new mark for altitude his teammate Ralph Johnstone, in the same Wright biplane, later went out for duration and made a new professional record for this country by remaining two hours, three minutes, five and two-fifths seconds in the air, on which journey he covered 62 miles, 3,755 feet. Another mark which is claimed to be the world's record for skid-equipped aeroplanes was made by Brookins, who landed his biplane 12 feet, one inch from a given point in a contest for accuracy. Claude Grahame-White was delayed today by the necessity of repairing his Farman biplane, which was damaged in his final descent, but was able to come out in the repaired machine in altitude, duration and distance. In addition to this, in his Bleriot monoplane he won first place in the speed events.

The standing of the aviators in the events in which points are given was as follows tonight: Claude Grahame-White 13; Glenn H. Curtiss 8 1-2; Charles F. Willard 8.

The standing of the aviators in the bomb dropping contest: White 75; Curtiss 25; Willard 13; Brookins 5.

BOSTON IS FIFTH CITY.

Given Population of 670,585 in Last Census—Ahead of St. Louis.

Washington, Sept. 10.—The population of Boston, Mass., is 670,585, an increase of 109,693, or 19.6 per cent. as compared with 560,892 in 1900.

Tonight's announcement leaves Boston the fifth city in point of population in the United States. A decade ago St. Louis outranked Boston by only 14,346 and the present census leaves St. Louis ahead by 16,444. There was but slight change in the rate of progress of the two cities, St. Louis' increase from 1900 to 1910 being 19.4 and Boston beating that by two-tenths of one per cent.

Boston's population twenty years ago was 448,477. The increase from 1890 to 1900, was 112,415, or 25.1 per cent.

RADFORD TOOK OWN LIFE.

Son of Mining Millionaire Despondent Over Love Affair.

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 10.—William Oliver Radford, son of William H. Radford, the millionaire mining man of San Francisco, committed suicide here last night by taking cyanide of potassium. The body was found tonight. A message was left for Mrs. N. G. Bush, 3343 South Jefferson Avenue, St. Louis, in which she is referred to as "the only girl I ever loved."

LORIMER RESIGNS FROM CLUB

Illinois Senator Indignant Over Roosevelt Incident—His Invitation Withdrawn—May Refuse to Accept Resignation.

Chicago, Sept. 10.—A terse note of resignation from the Hamilton Club, of which he had been a member many years, was the answer made here today by United States Senator William Lorimer to the action of the club president, John H. Batten, in withdrawing his invitation to the Roosevelt banquet Thursday night.

The invitation was withdrawn at the demand of Col. Roosevelt, who refused to attend a banquet at which Senator Lorimer also was a guest.

While Senator Lorimer urged that his resignation be accepted immediately, it is said tonight that the Senator's friends on the club board of governors probably will refuse to vote the acceptance.

Together with the resignation today news of correspondence from President Batten to Senator Lorimer developer, showing that the junior Illinois Senator also was to have been guest of honor, and it was the hope of the club to make the dinner notable as a harmonious occasion, where all factions of the Republican party had broken bread together.

At least three invitations were sent Lorimer, each urging him to attend the banquet, and the last of these he sent his acceptance. After this, on the day of the banquet, came the sudden recall of the invitation.

The note of resignation was written after a conference of the Senator with a number of his friends and at first was believed to be a cue which would be followed by a number of his admirers in the club. Later it was decided by his friends to refuse to accept the resignation.

Hears of Lorimer.

Pittsburg, Sept. 10.—Col. Roosevelt heard tonight that Senator Lorimer had resigned from the Hamilton Club following the attack which the colonel made on him two days ago. He was greatly interested in the news of the Senator's action, but he would make no comment on it.

EXCESSIVE RATE ALLEGED.

Florida Mercantile Agency Files Complaint With Commerce Commission.

Washington, Sept. 10.—Excessive charges on the transportation of fresh meat and fresh poultry from Jersey City, N. J., to Jacksonville, Fla., are alleged in a complaint filed today with the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The petition, presented by the Florida Mercantile Agency for Smith-Richardson and Conroy, of Jacksonville, against the Pennsylvania Railroad and several other carriers, alleges that a charge of 60 1-2 cents a hundred pounds is exacted on fresh meats and fresh poultry from Jersey City to Jacksonville, while the class rate on such shipments is nine cents a hundred or less.

CHARLESTON MAN A SUICIDE

Samuel F. Innes Shoots Himself in New York Hotel—Treasurer of Wholesale Shoe Firm—Cause Unknown.

New York, Sept. 10.—Samuel F. Innes, aged 57, head of the firm of Drake, Innes & Co., of Charleston, S. C., wholesale and retail shoe dealers, shot and killed himself in his room at the Hoffman House early today. The merchant was discovered lying in his bed with a bullet in the side of his head. A revolver lay nearby.

Mr. Innes came here with his brother from Charleston to undergo today an x-ray examination for what was said to be a minor affection. His brother thinks that the merchant undoubtedly worried over the examination which he was to undergo today. Mr. Innes' body will be taken to Charleston.

Charleston, S. C., Sept. 10.—Samuel F. Innes, who killed himself at New York City, was treasurer of and traveling salesman for the Drake-Innes-Green Shoe Company, a wholesale concern. He was well known to the trade throughout the southeast. He was prominent in the Order of Elks in South Carolina and was unmarried.

VIRGINIA LEAGUE CLOSES.

Danville Easy Pennant Winner—Will Re-organize Circuit.

Lynchburg, Va., Sept. 10.—The fifth season of the present Virginia League closed today with Danville an easy pennant winner, Roanoke, Norfolk, Lynchburg, Richmond and Petersburg finishing in order.

Danville, after a poor start, took the lead from Roanoke about June 15th and was never headed, though the race became close about September 1st, but Roanoke was not strong enough to overcome Danville's lead.

This season marked the close of the five year agreement of the league and a meeting is to be held shortly to reorganize the circuit.

Richmond, Va., Sept. 10.—With the games played today the Virginia State Baseball League closed its season.

The standing of the clubs at the wind-up is as follows:

Teams.	Won	Lost	P. C.
Danville	69	45	.605
Roanoke	68	52	.567
Norfolk	59	56	.513
Lynchburg	56	61	.479

FEATURE DAY FOR CATHOLICS

Open Air Ceremonies at Eucharistic Congress Attended by 75,000.—Gibbons Uurging the American Claims.

Montreal, Sept. 10.—Announcement was made today that the next Eucharistic Congress will be held at Vienna, Austria. There is a possibility that the permanent committee of the Congress may be asked to hold its sessions in the United States in 1913. Cardinal Gibbons has been a potent advocate of the American claims.

The fifth day of the Congress opened with an extraordinary demonstration at the foot of Mount Royal. A pontifical mass was said at a repository built near the base of the mountain, with Archbishop Farley, of New York, as celebrant. Fully 75,000 persons were assembled long before the ceremonies began. The Cardinal legate, Vincent Vannutelli, presided, and Archbishop O'Connell preached the sermon.

In the afternoon the Catholic Club of New York gave a reception in honor of the three princes of the church. Several thousand persons passed Cardinals Vannutelli, Logue and Gibbons.

In the evening the final public meeting was held at Notre Dame, with Judge O'Sullivan, of New York, and Father Vaughn, of London, the chief speakers. Father Vaughn's remarks were chiefly devotional, but in closing he proposed that the assemlage should send a message to King George V. He said:

"This evening I have spoken as a Catholic to my fellow Catholics, but I cannot help reminding the whole world that in the measure in which we are true to the church we shall be loyal to our country, and tonight let us send a message to our beloved and revered King George V, assuring him that among all the subjects of his world-wide empire he has none more true, more loyal or more devoted than Catholics whose patriotism is set in the root of religion." The message was sent.

NEW ORLEANS THE WINNER.

Cinches the Pennant in the Southern League.

New Orleans, Sept. 10.—As the result of New Orleans taking one game from Caatttanooga today and the defeat of Atlanta, New Orleans is assured the 1910 pennant, whatever the result of the remaining games may be Before today's games there was a chance for Birmingham to win the championship by one point providing that the team won all its games and the New Orleans team lost all.

Lake Placid, N. Y., Sept. 10.—Edgar C. Fosburg, a well-known lumber merchant of Norfolk, Va., died today at his summer place here, Woodside Lodge, of Bright's disease.

TEDDY HAS ENDED TOUR OVER WEST

Concluded Spectacular Journey With Pittsburg Visit Last Night.

AT OYSTER BAY HOME TODAY

His Travels Yesterday Embraced Three States—Delivered Several Addresses—Plain Advice About Columbus Strike.

Pittsburg, Sept. 10.—The Western tour of Col. Theodore Roosevelt was virtually concluded in Pittsburg tonight. He arrived here at 6:20 o'clock this evening and stopped long enough to deliver two addresses and attend an informal dinner. He will be at home in Oyster Bay again tomorrow.

The last day was one of the most spectacular of Col. Roosevelt's long trip. Leaving Cincinati in the morning, he cut across Ohio into West Virginia and Western Pennsylvania. At the several short stops made, throngs were on hand to greet him. He stayed in Columbus, Ohio, for an hour, and left behind him some very plain advice about the situation which has grown out of the street car strike there. His strong remarks upon "justice, law and order" were cheered by all factions in the struggle which has torn Columbus for weeks.

The last of the rear platform speeches of the trip was made at Steubenville, Ohio, this afternoon. So many people tried to get within hearing distance that two police jumped upon the car to keep them from engulfing the colonel.

"Get down, please," said Col. Roosevelt, "so that I can see the people. I thank you for your help, but I can protect myself."

The policemen got down and the ex-President talked about homely virtues. At London, Ohio, the colonel talked about corporations.

He spoke briefly at Newark, Dennison and several other places in Ohio. Thousands of Pittsburg people sacrificed their usual dinner hour this evening and crowded down town streets in welcome to the distinguished guest, who had not paid Pittsburg a visit for more than eight years.

After an informal dinner at the Fort Pitt Hotel he was driven cross town where from a historic balcony of the Monongahela House, he addressed an enormous crowd.

Tells Them Their Duty.

Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 10.—In language as emphatic as he could make it, Col. Roosevelt told the people of Columbus today that scenes of disorder such as had occurred here during the street car strike which is still in progress were reprehensible and reflected disgrace upon any persons who either were responsible for them or tolerated them.

Col. Roosevelt spoke at Goodale Park to a crowd estimated at between 15,000 and 20,000. He was guarded by an escort of regular troops from the barracks at Columbus, although there was no sign of disorder. The State militia and large numbers of policement also were on duty.

With fists clenched and his face set sternly, Col. Roosevelt told those who heard him that it was their first duty to repress lawlessness.

Mayor Marshall, of Columbus, whose conduct of the police force during the strike has been the subject of much discussion said to Col. Roosevelt after he had finished his address: "You do not know how much strength you have given me."

Policemen who heard the ex-President denounce the officers of the law who did not repress lawlessness, went to him and shook his hand.

In his address Col. Roosevelt set forth the duties of the citizens of Columbus at two fold, as follows:

"First, at once and without equivocation or hesitation, to enforce order, suppress violence, and see that the law is obeyed in letter and spirit. Second, as soon as this result has been achieved turn at once to the recall question of justice and exert your whole power to find out the facts, treating any refusal to give you all the facts as a confession of guilt. If injustice has been done exert the whole power of the government to see that it is remedied forthwith and if there is any effort to prevent this, if the attempt to remedy is obstructed, see to it that there is not only a remedy but also punishment; and take steps that will effectually prevent a repetition of the injustice.

"You people of Columbus face one of the crises which from time to time in our American life demand the exercise of the highest qualities of good citizenship. It is your immediate duty to secure law and order and once this has been done it becomes your even higher and more pressing duty to see that justice, full and complete is guaranteed alike to the employer, the employe, and the people as a whole."

Macon, Ga., Sept. 10.—J. W. Cabaniss, former president of the Exchange Bank of Macon, who was convicted and sentenced to one year on the State prison farm and a fin of $500, for declaring illegal dividends, has been pardoned by Governor Brown.

VICTIM OF WOMEN WHOM HE FOOLED

Mrs. William Krauss, of Memphis Shot California Mining Broker.

GAVE MONEY WITH PROMISE

She Recently Figured in Sensational Court Trial in Mississippi—Tragedy Occurred at Los Angeles—Details Given.

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 10.—Mrs. Wm. Krauss, wife of Dr. Krauss, said to be a well known educator and physician of Memphis, Tenn., shot and slightly wounded Franklin H. Griffith, a mining broker, here today. Mrs. Krauss charged that Griffith obtained money from her and failed to keep a promise of marriage.

Mrs. Krauss shot at Griffiththree times with a revolver, one bullet passing through his right forearm. Mrs. Krauss is in jail. She has known Griffith for several years, and according to her story, had advanced him considerable money for the purchase of mining stock, which, she said, she afterward found to be worthless. She alleged that Griffith had promised to marry her as soon as she was able to obtain a divorce from Dr. Krauss, but that ultimately he had refused to do so, or make a return of the money she had advanced.

Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 10.—Mrs. William Krauss, who shot and wounded Franklin H. Griffith, of Los Angeles, is widely known throughout the South. She married Dr. William Krauss, a noted bacteriologist of Memphis several years ago.

Mrs. Krauss and her husband have lived apart for some time having signed an agreement of separation. The couple figured in a sensational court trial at Vicksburg, Miss., several months ago when Mrs. Krauss brought suit charging Dr. Krauss with non-support. The name of Griffith was brought into the case.

A divorce suit brought by Mrs. Krauss is now on the docket of the local courts.

Mrs. Krauss was formerly Miss Daisy Turney and is a niece of former Governor Turney, of Tennessee.

WAYNE DEMOCRATS MEET.

Nominated County and Legislative Ticket—Harmony Prevailed.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Goldsboro, N. C., Sept. 10.—The Democratic yeomanry of Wayne county this afternoon met in this city in convention to nominate a county and Legislative ticket, and from start to finish the best of harmony prevailed. The claims of all sections and the reasonable views of all elements were given utmost and cordial consideration, in consequence of which a ticket was named that is going to sweep the county with more than the old-time Democratic majority. The first thing adopted was a resolution favoring a legalized primary to be held the same day by both parties in the county, and instructing our legislators to endeavor to secure the passage of such a law by the next General Assembly.

The convention took up nominations in the following order, and with the following results as the successful candidates: Sheriff, R. H. Edwards; Register of Deeds, L. H. Reeves; Clerk of Superior Court, James R. Hatch; Treasurer, John W. Gardner; Senate, J. L. Barham; House of Representatives, J. F. Kelly and J. M. Mitchell; Board of County Commissioners, I. F. Ormond, chairman, from Southside; C. F. Herring and J. A. Westbrook, Northside; W. A. Martin, and Alex. Aycock; Surveyor, Louis H. Godwin; Coroner, C. E. Stanley.

The convention endorsed the township tax collectors as follows: Buck Swamp, Thad Howell; Fork, J. R. Hooks; Goldsboro, W. A. Denmark; Grantham, Martin Denning; Great Swamp, Murray M. Holland; Indian Springs, R. C. Sanderson; Brogden, R. L. Kornegay; New Hope, J. C. Grant; Pikeville, J. B. Edmundson; Saulston, Add Peel; Stoney Creek, B. T. Person, Jr.; Nahunta, R. B. Peel.

ROBESON FARMERS' UNION.

President Cobb Resigns—County Politics Are Active.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Lumberton, N. C., Sept. 10.—The county Farmers' Union held its quarterly meeting here yesterday and today and was well attended. The resignation of President W. S. Cobb, which was tendered several days ago when he announced himself a candidate for State Senator, was accepted and Mr. W. K. Culbreth was elected to fill out the unexpired term. Dinner was served on the court house square today.

The announcement of the candidacy of Mr. Geo. B. McLeod for sheriff has caused Mr. J. A. Barker to prepare a statement to the public which will be given out the first of the week, in which he explains away some of the insinuations which are flying around. Mr. Barker explains why he is not a candidate this year instead of two years hence. He says it is on account of his own private personal affairs and not because he has been bought off as is being told by some who seem to want to make the wrong impression.

TENNIS HONORS DIVIDED.

Yale and Princeton Even Up in the Series—Various Events.

Philadelphia, Sept. 10.—Yale and Princeton divide this year's college lawn tennis honors, the blue capturing the singles and the orange and black the doubles on the Merion Cricket Club's grounds. The final rounds in both events were played today and were witnessed by large crowds of spectators.

In the singles R. A. Holden, of Yale, defeated A. H. Sweetser, of Harvard, by three sets to one in a match replete with good playing, but the doubles were disappointing, so far as championship play was concerned, Deane Mathey and B. N. Bell, of Princeton, experiencing little difficulty in disposing of R. Evans, Jr., and F. Goodhue, of Yale. Today's results make the point standing on the championship trophy as follows: Pennsylvania 6; Yale 5; Harvard 5; Princeton 4. Seven points are necessary for permanent possession.

LAKE TRAGEDY EXPLAINED.

Coal Passer Tells of Sinking of Car Ferry—Ferry No. 17.

Ludington, Mich., Sept. 10.—Thomas Shields, a coal passer, rescued when Pere Marquette car ferry No. 18 went down in Lake Michigan Friday with a loss of 28, gave an account of the wreck tonight. He lies at a local hospital in a serious condition. This is his story in his own words:

"You see, I'm just a coal passer, and I was on watch at 12:30. I noticed that there was water coming in from one of the glass ports, but I didn't think about it, as some times water does come in. Then I saw the mate, Joe Brezenski and one of the wheelsmen come and try to fix the glass and the iron or brass that holds the port in. Then Capt. Kilty comes and they push cloths and rags into the hole and the captain orders the pumps to be put on. There was a heavy sea pounding, so I tells one of the firemen that water was rushing in.

"Then about 1:30 Capt. Kilty tells us we've got to shove the cars off so as to lighten the ship. We had a h—l of a time getting them off, because they were stick and hang over, but we got the 29 off. Then the captain told us to get the port side lifeboats off, as that was the lee side and the sea wasn't so heavy. There were three boats and we moored them so they cleared the side. Some of the deck hands got in and kept the life boats from banging alongside. We loosened all the life rafts so they would float off when the boat sank.

"We had the flag at half mast at daylight, so that No. 17 certainly knew we were in trouble. No. 17 was getting close to us and I was right alongside of Capt. Kilty when he yelled to the 17 that 18 wouldn't last long. But No. 17 didn't come alongside. No. she swung around our stern and came within 100 feet of us on the wind side. I heard Capt. Walter Brown, the second mate, yell to the 17 and say:

"'For God's sake, what are you doing? Why don't you get a hustle on you.'

"Then the 17 swung back and came over on the lee side of us but just stayed away. If they had had any nerve at all they would have saved every mother's son of us. I can swear to it that 17 could have got us all off if they had come alongside when they first came up. But instead of that they hung off to windward."

Stanley Chubb, a porter said:

"No. 17 came up on the port or lee side, back of the 18. She then came ahead, but instead of swinging to the lee side, all were thunderstruck to see her swing to the windward. I stood right alongside of Mate Brown when he yelled through his hands to the 17:

"'For God's sake, come alongside; where are you going?'

"Yet they yelled back, 'What's the matter?'

"Anybody could see that we were sinking and if No. 17 had pulled alongside when she first came up all could have been saved."

The Pere Marquette officials say that Capt. Kilty did not indicate to the 17 that he feared his ship was in grave danger.

The Pere Marquette officials gave out the barest possible theories as to why No. 18 sank. They say they can prove that the pumps could have taken care of any water that might have dashed through a dead light. The only other plausible theory advanced is that the water came in through a crank boxing or from a lossened plate.

"I sifted the case to the bottom," said Superintendent Trump, today, "but found nothing that would explain the disaster."

COMPTROLLER ON THE ALERT.

Will Make Personal Investigation—Talks of Examiners.

Washington, Sept. 10.—Close upon the heels of the radical shake-up in the ranks of bank examiners by which 20 men on Thursday were shifted to new fields, Comptroller of the Currency Murray today announced that he would make a personal investigation of conditions in all examination districts. In deciding upon this course of action the comptroller in a statement addressed to the examiners said:

"In almost every case of a National bank failure since I have been comptroller, the insolvncy could have been troller, the insolvency could have been iner determined the true condition and reported his findings in time for me to force a correction in the administration of the bank's failure."

Condemning the excuses by bank examiners in practically every case Mr. Murray said he had been compiled to undertake a personal examination of conditions in every district so as to ascertain at first hand why an examiner is unable to discover impending disaster in the affairs of a bank. He will be accompanied and assisted on the trip by Oscar L. Telling, formerly a national bank examiner and now chief of the division of reports in the comptroller's office.

A. C. L. VS. CASWELL.

Score Six to Three in Favor of Wilmington Aggregation—Game.

The strong A. C. L. team, of Wilmington, defeated an all-star aggregation from the Fort Caswell League at League Park, this city, yesterday afternoon by the score of 6 to 3. Owing to the threatening weather, only a small crowd witnessed the game but those who were present say that the "real article" of the sport was served by the teams. It was regretted that the Post Artillery Band could not accompany the visiting ball players.

FAYETTEVILLE WINS PENNANT

Highlanders Took Both Games of Doubleheader Yesterday and Are Now East Carolina Champions—Leary Gets $50 Prize.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Rocky Mount, N. C., Sept. 10.—Fayetteville took the first of the doubleheader by clouting the ball over the lot while Mayer was immensely effective today. This game decided the pennant lander and Fayetteville will fly the championship banner next year. In the ninth with a man on first and third and nobody down the Railroaders appeared to have an excellent chance of tieing the score when the first triple play ever seen on the local field was pulled off and the side was retired.

The play was a startler and for rattling fast work of the infield it has never been equalled here. Both teams fielded brilliantly and it was the hard hitting by Fayetteville that got away with the game. A large attendance was prevented by threatening weather.

The second game of the doubleheader was not necessary but was played because of the presence in the stands of possibly a hundred visitors most of whom were from Fayetteville and who arrived on an afternoon train too late for much of the first game.

Fayetteville won the second game also by the score of three to nothing. Tracey and Dussault made up the battery for the crew while Brandt and Hartley did the work for the Highlanders. The game was called at the end of the fifth. The score.

When catcher Leary of the Railroaders went to the bat in the second inning "Time" was called for a moment by Umpire Barr and with a few appropriate remarks he presented the Railroaders' receiver with a check for $50 for having hit the "Bull" in the Wilmington-Rocky Mount game in Wilmington on Saturday, August 27th. This catcher is the only man in this league to do this trick.

MAINE VOTES TOMORROW.

Both Factions Claiming Victory—Politics Are Waxing Warm.

Portland, Me., Sept. 10.—A large question mark symbolizes the political situation in Maine at the close of the State campaign. For weeks both the Republican party which is in power and the Democratic party, have engaged in efforts to arouse the State, and the final rallies were held tonight with both sides expressing confidence that success will rest with them when the ballots are counted Monday night.

The rival candidates are the present Governor, Bert E. Fernald, of Poland, leading the Republicans and Frederick W. Plaisted, Mayor of Augusta, heading the Democratic ticket. The voters of the State also will elect four State auditors, four Congressmen, county officers and a Legislature, which will name a successor to United States Senator Eugene Hale.

While the contest ofr Governor is first in interest, it is no great margin over that for Congress in two of the districts.

In the First district Asher C. Hinds, of Portland, who has sat behind half a dozen Congressional speakers as a parliamentarian, is battling against William Pennell, of Brunswick, a former sheriff of Cumberland county. In the Second district Congressman John C. Swazy, of Canton, is fighting for a second term against Daniel P. McGillicuddy, of Lewiston.

Both sides claim to have made a winning fight, but close political observers believe that Swarzy's success is more doubtful than that of Hinds.

The Democrats practically concede the return of Congressman Edwin C. Burleigh in the Third district, and Frank E. Guernsey in the Fourth.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 10.—The National Association of Life Underwriters closed its annual convention here with a banquet tonight. At the final business session Chicago was selected as the convention city for 1911. The following officers were elected: H. J. Powell, Louisville, president, and N. D. S. Sills, Richmond, Va., secretary.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

HEAT-DANGERS FOR CHILDREN

The little folks do not stand the heat as well as their elders, and special care should be taken to keep them in good physical condition. One of the things to be especially watchful of is the condition of the bowels, which presents many dangers hardly dreamed of by parents. When the child shows a tendency to constipation, if it loses appetite, complains of headaches, itch or fails to sleep well and awake refreshed, the mother may be certain that the child needs a tonic-laxative with ingredients such as are contained in Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, of which most mothers have heard and which thousands of mothers are using for themselves and their children. Indigestion is one of the worst troubles of child-life in the summer time, and it manifests itself in many different ways. Whatever the cause and whatever the manifestation the mother may be sure of removing the trouble with a few doses of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which should always be kept in the house for emergency. It is sold in two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00, and can be obtained of any druggist. Those who have never used it and wish to make a test of it before buying, can obtain a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE by addressing

PROPOSED MEMORIAL TO BILL NYE TO BE $5,000 BLDG. AT STONEWALL JACKSON TRAINING SCHOOL

Committee Appointed by North Carolina Press Association Decides That the Lamented Humorist Shall be Honored in a Practical Manner—State Newspapers Delegated to Receive Contributions to the Cause.

The committee appointed at the recent meeting of the North Carolina Press Association to take in the matter of a State memorial to Bill Nye, met in Salisbury, Wednesday, July 6th, in formal session, and after hearing all the propositions before it unanimously decided:

1. That the memorial to the lamented humorist shall take the form of a memorial building, to be one of the group and a part of the Stonewall Jackson Training School, generally known as the State Reformatory, in Cabarrus county, near Concord.

2. That the building, furnished and equipped as the trustees of the institution may direct, to the best advantage for the rescue of errant boys, shall cost not less than $5,000, and shall be known as the "BILL NYE MEMORIAL BUILDING."

3. That the following newspapers be designated to receive and acknowledge subscriptions to the fund for this building, said funds to be transmitted promptly to the treasurer, JOHN M. Julian, Editor of the Salisbury Post:

The Star, Wilmington.
The Observer, Charlotte.
The Evening Post, Salisbury.
The Citizen, Asheville.
The News and Observer, Raleigh.
The News, Greensboro.
The Uplift, Concord.

4. That while the committee believes that this memorial should be distinctively North Carolina's tribute to the lamented man of letters, it deems it wise, in order to ensure the prompt success of the movement, and further to permit the friends of Bill Nye outside the State an opportunity to contribute to this movement, that conributions from outside the State should be gratefully received and acknowledged, while not solicited.

The committee believes further that it made a wise and happy selection in the form of this memorial; that nothing it might have conceived would have brought greater joy to the heart of the gifted, kindly man whose memory it is designed to perpetuate than the great work of making useful citizens of wayward boys, and that were he present with us in the flesh today it would have the stamp of his approval. Furthermore the committee bespeaks the hearty co-operation of the brethren of the press especially, and all good citizens generally in this undertaking. It is a labor of love—one that has already been too long neglected, to the shame of North Carolina. Let us put our shoulders to the wheel and show to the world what North Carolina can do for the man it delights to honor.

(Signed)
JAMES M. CAINE, Chairman,
JOHN M. JULIAN, Treasurer.
R. W. VINCENT, Secretary,

ARCHIBALD H. BOYDEN,
Committee.

THE WEEK AT LUMBERTON, N. C.

Political Situation in Robeson—Superior Court Monday—Interesting Trial Before Magistrate. Excursion—Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Lumberton, N. C., Sept. 10.—The political situation in Robeson is now getting interesting and warm, though we do not pretend to try to give the temperature. Mr. Geo. B. McLeod has announced himself as a candidate for sheriff and has been busy notifying his friends throughout the county by circular letter. Sheriff McNeill is also busy reminding his friends of the fact that he will appreciate their support and the race between the two gentlemen promises to be intersting from now until the close of the primary.

Mr. W. S. Cobb has announced his candidacy for the Senate and we are informed has resigned his position as president of the County Farmers' Union. Col. E. F. MacRae, of Maxton, who announced himself for the Senate several days ago and Mr. Cobb are both good men. Dr. W. A. McPhaul has yielded to the wishes of his friends and will be in the race for the Legislature. With two of its leading physicians in the Legislature, Robeson county ought to be able to get some good laws along the health line.

Mr. J. W. Carter, who has been the faithful chairman of the Board of County Commissioners for several years, has also announced himself as a candidate for re-election.

We have been informed that The Robesonian will on Monday contain a communication from up about Lumber Bridge that will create more talk. The Republicans have quit smiling in this section now—they are laughing right out so everybody can hear them. And if the fight keeps up they may have something to laugh at sure enough.

The friends of Messrs. Godwin and Clark are hard at work and if reports should be true the vote will be closer than many thought. In one strong Godwin township we were told yesterday, many voters who took part in the first primary will not vote at all this time and those who expect to vote are divided.

The appropriation for Lumberton's fine government building seems to have fallen flat and the bill which was introduced in Congress to change the Croatans to Cherokees seems to have gone to sleep one time in a pigeon hole and never woke up.

An interesting case was tried here yesterday in the court house before Justice Eli Phillips, which may result seriously for a young man who wanted to get married or wanted to keep a girl from marrying some one else. It was in evidence that he had visited at the home of the girl twice but never said anything to her about sharing life's joys and sorrows with him and the first intimation of his intention was when she read in the Robesonian Saturday morning that license had been granted for the marriage to the young man. Investigation by the father of the girl revealed the fact that two men had sworn that she was 18 years old. The family record which was presented in court showed that she would be 18 next February. The defendants, Gordon Davis and J. D. Turner, were bound over to court, charged with perjury, in the sum of $100, the bond being justified. Miss Lottie Branch, daughter of Mr. J. W. Branch, is the lady in the case.

Several bales of new cotton have been brought in this week but one farmer, who lives eight miles from town, hauled two bales back home rather than sell for less than 14 cents. He was offered 13 1-2 cents, but he said he didn't have to sell at that prize for the present and did not do so.

Chicken thieves are making raids around town again and more than one gun is anxiously awaiting the opportunity to make a noise, even if no one has to have a doctor.

The September term of Robeson Superior Court for the trial of criminal cases will convene Monday, Judge O. H. Allen presiding. There is a large crowd of prisoners in jail, about a dozen of whom are waiting to be tried for their lives. It is not probable that the docket will come anything like being cleared. Large crowds of people are expected Monday, many being present to attend court.

Among the many things we would like to know is what makes such a big difference in railroad fare between Lumberton and Raleigh and Lumberton and Durham. The rate to Raleigh from here is $2.90 and to Durham, only a few miles further, is $5.15.

Many traveling people who spend nights at Lumberton and visit the moving picture show are emphatic in declaring it the best they have seen anywhere. Why certainly, it is a Lumberton show.

The family of Chief of Police Redfern arrived this week and are living in the house belonging to Mr. J. M. Butler, on Fifth street.

Quite a large number of people went from here on the Richmond excursion Wednesday and returned last night. It is useless to say the party had a good time, except for the hot weather. People like to go on an excursion operated by Capt. Cullen Jones and Mr. W. K. Bethune. Among those who took in the excursion was Mrs. D. M. Wishart, who went along with her son, Mr. J. H. Wishart. Mrs. Wishart is nearly 72 years old, but doesn't show it. But for the recollections of the past, the trip would have been much more pleasant. It was in Virginia that she lost three brothers during the war and whose remains filled unmarked graves. She had six brothers in the war, three of whom never returned, but the other three still live, though they have been residents of Texas for many years past.

Mr. D. W. Bullock, of Rowland, who is in the race for clerk of the Superior Court, was in town yesterday and stated that he was very greatly encouraged at the outlook and is confident of success, if his friends were not very much mistaken, which they say they are not.

The Lumberton oil mills started up this week for the season and that whistle sounds good about 5 o'clock in the mornings. It seems to put new life into everybody, reminding us that the Fall of the year is upon us.

That was a great big fake report sent out from Red Springs the first of the week that a Godwin Club with 463 mmbers had been organized there. Editor Dick Branch says there will not be over 250 votes cast and will be about evenly divided. He says there is no club there.

Rev. A. P. Tyer, of Maxton, was a Lumberton visitor yesterday.——Mrs. W. S. Wishart and daughter, Miss Elizabeth, who have been spending some days with friends in Wilmington and at the beach, returned home the first of the week.——Mr. C. B. Yarborough, timber and cross-tie buyer for the Coast Line, was a Lumberton visitor Thursday——Mr. Wallace Norment spent three days in Durham this week on a pleasure trip.——Mrs. T. C. Johnston left Thursday for Wrightsville in response to a long distance 'phone message notifying her of the sickness of a sister. Mrs. Johnston came from Whiteville only a few days ago, her sister having been taken sick next day after her leaving——Col. E. F. MacRae, of Maxton, was here yesterday and made it plain that he expected to spend January and February in Raleigh as he feels sure of being the next Senator from Robeson.

Mr Iredell Meares, Republican candidate for Congress in the Sixth District, will speak here Monday in the hourt house when court adjourns for dinner. The Republican county convention will be held here on Tuesday, September 20th, at which time Marion Butler will be present and shell the woods. That day will show if Butler can lead the people as of old.

Mr. A. H. Hinds, who conducts the beef market, was painfully injured Thursday evening in a rather peculiar way. While engaged in cutting meat, the knife which is long and very slender, and of course, very sharp, in some way slipped and stuck well into the left thigh on the sinside. Mr. Hinds is laid up at home suffering much pain, though receiving the best meical attention.

This section was visited by refreshing showers last night accompanied by much thunder and lightning, but so far we have heard of no damage.

Mr. L. K. Fuller and family have been spending two or three days here with the family of Mr. C. M. Fuller. They are on their way to Whiteville from Randolph county. Whiteville will be their future home. Mr. L. K. Fuller is a brother of Mr. C. M. Fuller.

The following gentlemen have announced themselves candidates for county commissioners, subject to the action of the Democratic primary: A. J. Floyd, A. R. McEachern, W. P. Barker, J. W. Carter and W. F. McKay. Messrs. McEachern and Carter are members of the present board and it is to be hoped they will be kept there indefinitely for they are among our very best men.

FREE BRUNSWICK FERRY.

Mr. Mercer Thinks We Should Strike While Iron is Hot.

Mr. Editor:—Let us strike while the iron is hot. After many years waiting a strong sentiment is taking concrete form towards a free ferry between Wilmington and Brunswick county across the Cape Fear river; and I am glad to see you advocating the movement in your columns. Ten or twelve years ago a number of efforts were made by the Chamber of Commerce of Wilmington and individuals to have the commissioners of New Hanover and Brunswick counties get together on some plan by which a free ferry might be had. But the sentiment was then so divided as to render an agreement between the two counties impossible, so the matter was not pushed and was finally altogether dropped.

Now, things are very different. Both conditions and sentiments on both sides of the Cape Fear river have changed. Brunswick is quietly but vigorously forging to the front with her township bond issues for good roads. One township after another has fallen into line and the others are sure to follow soon and when these links of good roads are connected at the different township lines, Brunswick county will have a system of good roads that any county might be proud of. And naturally, the "Wilmington to Charlotte Highway" will find its way through Northwest township, the upper end of Brunswick county, when this end of it is built, so that it is now Wilmington and New Hanover's turn to "get busy" looking to having a free ferry, a good causeway and a first-class bridge across Brunswick river, which would open wide our gates to welcome the benefits that these great improvements are sure to bring to Greater Wilmington.

If satisfactory arrangements can be made with the Brunswick Bridge and Ferry Co., for the city and New Hanover county to own that line, let it be done. If such satisfactory arrangement cannot be made, then let us see to it that the next Legislature passes such laws as will enable the city and county to own and operate a ferry at the foot of Princess street and build a road straight across Eagles' Island, using the old W. C. & A. R. R. bed, abandoned years ago. I suggest that the next Legislature pass enabling acts, allowing Brunswick county to cede Eagles Island to New Hanover county and that property owners of Eagles' Island secure through our representative at Washington government aid in draining this wonderfully rich and fertile piece of now almost useless land, most of which might be converted into a veritable Garden of Eden. Louisiana, Florida and Texas by draining just such lands, are bringing untold thousands of wealth into their borders, as well as rendering these localities healthy and habitable by reason of drainage. And Louisiana did the wise and proper thing at her recent primaries in renominating her old members of Congress who have done so much to bring about these important conditions which might naturally follow proper drainage of low wet lands, notably among hat State's able representatives being the Hon. Joseph E. Ransdell, of Inland Deeper Waterways fame.

J. B. MERCER.

The Lash of a Fiend

would have been about as welcome to A. Cooper, of Oswego, N. Y., as a merciless lung-racking cough that defied all remedies for years. "It was most troublesome at night," he writes, "nothing helped me till I used Dr King's New Discovery which cured me completely. I never cough at night now." Millions know its matchless merit for stubborn colds, obstinate coughs, sore lungs, lagrippe, asthma, hemorrhage, croup, whooping cough, or hay fever. It relieves quickly and never fails to satisfy. Coloring Billiard Balls Red.

It often happens that red billiard balls more or less completely lose their color and then present a disagreeable appearance. But nothing is easier than to restore their original color. To do this dissolve some dried sorrel, after having pounded and sifted it to assure solution, in a small quantity of water placed in a porcelain capsule large enough to take a billiard ball. Heat this liquid till it is tepid only and add as a mordant about ten drops of sulphuric acid. Put the ball to be colored in the capsule and leave it there about three-quarters of an hour on the corner of a stove, the temperature not being allowed to exceed from 40 degrees to 50 degrees C. At the end of that time take it away from the fire and let it cool.

The operation is complete in from two to three hours. Care must be taken to turn the billiard ball from time to time, so that it may be colored all over, for the coloring matter is deposited, and the part of the ball at the bottom would be too deeply colored.

When the ball is withdrawn from the liquid it only requires wiping and then rubbing strongly with a woolen rag to make it brilliant again. It may be further polished by means of chamois leather impregnated with colcothar.—Vulgarisation Scientifique.

Bread and Gloves.

"Did you ever notice that the man who brings bread to this place always wears heavy gloves?" asked the regular boarder at the bushery in addressing his guest.

"No; I don't get here often enough to notice it," answered his friend.

"Well, you see him now. He always wears gloves, especially in handling rye bread."

"Yes?"

"It's a fact. Maybe you would not believe me if I told you that he is more apt to get his hands torn and cut than I am working at machinery all day."

"Really?"

"I never have learned the real cause, but the bread seems to have rough edges which scratch and cut the hands if it is handled in large quantities. Of course one or two loaves would not have any bad effect, but hundreds of loaves a day passing through a man's hands seem almost as dangerous as sandpapered brick would be."—St. Joseph Gazette.

When You Think

Of the pain which many women experience with every month it makes the gentleness and kindness always associated with womanhood seem to be almost a miracle. While in general no woman rebels against what she regards as a natural necessity there is no woman who would not gladly be free from this recurring period of pain.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes weak women strong and sick women well, and gives them freedom from pain. It establishes regularity, subdues inflammation, heals ulceration and cures female weakness.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence strictly private and sacredly confidential. Write without fear and without fee to World's Dispensary Medical Association, R. V. Pierce, M. D., President, Buffalo, N. Y.

If you want a book that tells all about woman's diseases, and how to cure them at home, send 21 one-cent stamps to Dr. Pierce to pay cost of mailing only, and he will send you a free copy of his great thousand-page illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser—revised, up-to-date edition, in paper covers. In handsome cloth-binding, 31 stamps.

THE MORNING STAR

Published by the WILMINGTON STAR COMPANY [Inc.] Wilmington, N. C.

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Wilmington, N. C., under act of Congress, March 2nd 1874.

FULL ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.

PUBLISHERS' ANNOUNCEMENT.

THE MORNING STAR, the oldest daily newspaper in North Carolina, is published daily except Monday, at $6 per year, $3 for six months, $1.50 for three months, 50 cents for one month, served by carrier in the city or by mail.

THE SUNDAY STAR, by mail, one year, $1; six months, 50 cents; three months, 25 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES may be had on application and advertisers may feel assured that through the columns of this paper they may reach all Wilmington, Eastern Carolina and contiguous territory in South Carolina.

Obituary sketches, cards or thanks, communications espousing the cause of a private enterprise or a political candidate, and like matter, will be charged at the rate of 10 cents per line, or if paid cash in advance, a half rate will be allowed. Announcements of fairs, festivals, balls, hops, picnics, society meetings, political meetings, etc., will be charged under same conditions except so much thereof as may be of news value to readers of the paper.

Advertisements discontinued before expiration of contracts are charged transient rates for time actually published. Payment for transient advertisements must be cash in advance. Contract advertisers will not be allowed to exceed their space at same rates or advertise anything foreign to their regular business without extra charge. Advertisements to occupy special place will be charged for according to position desired.

TELEPHONES: Business Office No. 51; Editorial and Local rooms No. 61. Call either if the other doesn't answer.

COMMUNICATIONS, unless they contain important news, or discuss briefly and properly subjects of real interest, are not wanted; and if acceptable in every other way, they will be invariably rejected unless the real name of the author accompanies the same, not necessarily for publication but as a guarantee of good faith.

Sunday, September 11th, 1910.

Be good and keep your politics straight. Don't get off in your convictions and don't do violence to your Carolinanism.

Teddy's answer to that Kansas Socialist who called him a liar indicates that the Colonel is really a movable asset of The Outlook.

The cheerful liar is the one who takes the lie from Colonel Roosevelt and it turns out that the Colonel has himself misrepresented the facts.

A poet writes nine verses about "A Daisy." We know North Carolina poets who could write a hundred verses about a North Carolina "Peach."

The Rough Rider should hear what the standpat spellbinders are telling the people and rear right up on his hind feet and give them the first degree in Ananiasism.

The distinguished person sent across the continent by The Outlook seems to know something about everything but etiquette as she is known at Chicago banquets.

A New Jersey man, 100 years of age, declares he never touched whiskey. We leave it to Col. Roosevelt to throw doubt on the old gentleman's ability to remember accurately.

Roosevelt admirers will please take notice how Bryanic and LaFolleteic he is. Probably he intends to get right and stay right, but nobody knows—not even the gyratory ex-President himself.

While in Chicago, ex-President Roosevelt refused to eat with Senator Lorimer. A Senator who is not particular what he does shall not even have the privilege accorded to Booker Washington, by George.

The Government's treatment of the Indians shows that Uncle Sam is a poor guardian. Yet a lot of people think he is capable of doing a banking business and running the numerous railroads of the country.

If Butler and Morehead hope to fool any North Carolinian in their effort to make him believe their dope about "local self-government" is not loaded with a wadding of trickery, they will have to stuff his head with sawdust.

Enough of "local self-government" is a good thing but some kinds of it and too much of it are worse than none. The Republican party is trying to fool us with a delusion that is largely overworked at the expense of taxpayers.

The Republican campaign book leaves out the reasons that caused insurgency in the G. O. P. camp, but asks the voters of the country to cast Republican ballots for the things against which old line Republicans have insurged.

Since the North Carolina Democracy, by its suffrage laws, cut out the Republican party's negro cancer, that party can indulge in making mere promises of "local self-government." "Local self-government" under the Republican party when negro voters constituted its majority meant "local self-government" by the black man. If there is anything that a North Carolinian likes to give the horselaugh to it's Humbuggery.

"I will make the corporations come to time," declared ex-President Roosevelt. The corporations are not scared, because they know the Colonel is not in a "position" to carry out his big talk. Then, again, they know that when he was in a position at Washington, he failed to make them "come to time" so as you'd notice it. "Ha! Ha!" says the corporations. Talk's cheap, but it takes money to buy land in Texas.

QUERY ON THE TARIFF.

Recently this query appeared in the Greensboro News, the Republican daily, published at Greensboro, N. C.:

"Will some Democratic contemporary kindly give us an explanation of the Democratic claim that the tariff has increased the price of what the town man must buy, but that it is not responsible for the increases of the prices of those things which the man on the farm has to sell?"

The esteemed Norfolk Virginia-Pilot, one of the ablest Democratic newspapers in this country, proposes to enlighten the North Carolina Republican paper upon the question which it propounds, and while loading its gun the Virginian-Pilot remarks:

"Sometime in the near future, when we have more space and leisure at our command, we shall give ourselves the pleasure of furnishing the explanation requested. The job is dead easy. In the meanwhile it is sufficient to direct the attention of our contemporary to the fact that the chief "things which the man on the farm has to sell" are the staples; wheat, corn, cotton, barley, rye and oats. Of each and all of these the United States produces enough for home consumption and a surplus for export. Will the News kindly explain to us how a tariff, high or low, could possibly affect, in one way or the other, to any extent, the price in the domestic market of a natural product of which the country grows a surplus over and above the demands for home needs?"

The News will have cause for regret that it has fallen into the hands of the Virginian Pilot and when that paper limbers up we will have something illuminating. In the meantime we butt in to remark that it cannot be denied that the tariff largely "has increased the price of what the town man must buy" and it is also partly "responsible for the increase of the price of those things which the man on the farm has to sell." In other words, the tariff inflates the price of protected articles, and, barring the law of supply and demand, it also tends to send up prices even on farm products.

The News, probably, has been answered in a way it was hankering after, but let us briefly as possible tell why farm products may advance in price because of an excessive tariff. It is because the tariff increases the cost of farming, and if the farmer did not get more for what he raises to sell he would find himself in a hole. Higher prices for farming implements and tools and higher prices for fertilizers and farm supplies necessarily burdens the farmer with more expense in conducting his farm. Farm wages also have to be increased because it costs the farm hand more to meet the high cost of living, while the higher prices for stock and the increased cost of feeding stock and cattle necessarily burdens the farmer. The farmer, in turn, has to get higher prices for his products in order to meet all his increased expenses, and if he did not have an increase in the price of farm products along with the increased price of everything else, he would surely have to go out of business.

The fact is, the protective tariff rambles in so many directions that it would be impossible to trace it, but that the increased expense of farmers and the increased cost of living on the part of consumers is largely due to the tariff all farmers and all consumers are convinced. They know it. Arguments to the contrary are ridiculous.

The high price of cotton today is specially due to successive short cotton crops, and also to the increased cost of making cotton. That logically makes cotton clothing higher and the tariff comes in as another factor to increase the cost of cotton goods for consumers. If the tariff did not increase the price of manufactured goods, the manufacturers would find no "protection" in it and the Republican party platform could not successfully boast of "guaranteeing a profit to manufacturers." That guarantee lies in stiffer prices, and that is what protection is intended to do.

If the tariff is prohibitive, it keeps out foreign competition and enables combines and trusts to fix prices to suit themselves. The tariff, by law, prevents foreign competition with home manufacturers, while combines and trusts take advantage of it to unite and enter into trusts so home manufacturers shall not compete with each other.

The beautiful protective tariff, which the Greensboro News boasts and which consumers condemn, enables the combines and trusts to get together and agree upon fixed prices without regard to even the law of supply and demand in many instances. Farmers and consumers are their victims and they are reasonably tired of it. The men whose salaries, wages and profits have not been increased along with the price of manufactured goods and farm products can tell you more about how they get it in the neck. The farmer can tell you how much more it costs to raise a pound of cotton or anything else than it used to, and if it were not for the short cotton crop to help to put up the price he probably would have his nose on the grindstone hard and fast. The Republican party does not "guarantee" the farmer a profit but sometimes it comes his way and we are glad of it.

The man who would holler "Hurrah for Teddy" in Beverly would be guilty of lese majesty.

As the Republican party deserves it, people are not sorry to see it taking the count. It is taking it hard.

BOLL WEEVIL'S PROGRESS.

Within the past few weeks alarming reports have come from several counties in North Carolina concerning the appearance of a destructive worm which bores into cotton bolls, literally destroying every one into which it makes its way. From Richmond county recent reports were made to the State Agricultural Department that diseased spots were discovered on cotton bolls, and as the cotton so affected was wilted and practically destroyed, it was feared that the boll weevil had made its appearance. The State Department has made an investigation of the Richmond county case, and its report says:

"The boll infection which has appeared in a number of cotton fields in Richmond county and has been referred to by some newspapers as a possible appearance of the dreaded bool weevil is anthracose, a fungus disease, for which there is no practical remedy, is the finding of the State Chemist B. W. Kilgore, of the North Carolina Department of Agriculture. He made his examination by means of a number of infected bolls submitted to him by United States Marshal Claudius Dockery, who gathered the bolls in various stages of the disease while he was spending a few days at his plantation recently. However, his own cotton is not affected. Dr. Kilgore writes Mr. Dockery that this disease makes its appearance in cotton growing in a damp soil during a wet season, and that the only precaution he knows of is for the farmers not to use for planting his next crop any of the seed gathered from the infected crop."

It will be a great relief to know that the boll weevil has not invaded North Carolina, although there are suspicious cases that bear investigation. There is one in Robeson county, and it would be well to look into the nature of the worm which is reported to be boring into cotton bolls in different parts of the State.

Thursday's Associated Press dispatches report that the genuine Texas boll weevil has been discovered in Alabama. Official report to that effect has been made to the Alabama Department of Agriculture by Dr. W. E. Hinds, an expert on cotton diseases. The pest has made its appearance in southwestern Alabama, invading that State from the neighboring State of Mississippi where the weevil was discovered a year or two ago. The only infected Alabama district so far reported upon is around Mobile county. Thus the weevil has spread from Texas across Louisiana and Mississippi to Alabama, and its progress seems to be steady but sure.

In Mississippi the boll weevil is not altogether an unmixed evil, for the Mississippi farmers have learned to grow corn on the intensive scale, and the result is that the State not only produces the home supply but many thousands of bushels for export to Europe. The New Orleans Picayune, noting that Mississippi has become a corn producing State, emphasizes a report from Cincinnati to the effect that one of the features of the Ohio Valley Exposition, to be held in that city, will be a series of lectures upon Southern resources, wherein the lecturer will undertake to show that the "national granary" will some time be removed to the South. Fanciful as this may seem to those of our Northern neighbors who are unacquainted with the present day conditions in the southwest section, the lecturer will be able to bolster his theory by plausible and rather convincing facts and figures.

We are told in the Cincinnati dispatch referred to above that the boll weevil will figure in the lecturer's arguments as one of the principal agencies in the prophesied evolution. Certainly that troublesome invader has powerfully helped the crop diversification campaigners, bringing many converts into the diversification camp. Moreover, experimentation with the standard grains has been surprisingly successful, by most accounts. Improved farming methods have helped corn culture throughout the Southern States, so that both the yield and the acreage are increasing rapidly. It is said that Southern farmers also are getting satisfactory yields of oats. As for wheat, the Mississippi farmers who made trial of that crop last Fall are reported well satisfied with results and within the last few days the organization of what might be termed "wheat-growing clubs" has been reported from two Mississippi counties.

It should be noted that Mississippi is making the most of her boll weevil misfortune by sending a lecturer to the Cincinnati exposition to boom the State as a great producer of other crops than cotton. While the cotton boll weevil has not appeared in North Carolina, and we are yet producing big yields of cotton, corn and other crops as well, it will be a good idea to watch for its appearance and report it at once. All suspicious circumstances should at once be reported to the State Agricultural Department at Raleigh.

BOOSTER CLUB FOR TWIN CITY.

A dispatch states that a mass meeting of young men will be held in Winston-Salem next Thursday night to organize a boosting club for the Twin City. A preliminary meeting took place on Thursday, with quite a number of young men in attendance, and they determined to organize on a permanent basis for effective work. It is the purpose to effect an organization that will supplement the work of the Winston-Salem Board of Trade to some extent, but the young men propose to have a distinctive organization and manage its own affairs by such officers and committees as may be necessary. The young men of Winston-Salem have taken hold of the matter with pronounced enthusiasm and are eager to do their part by their city.

The question is what will they do? All the young men are "eager" to help their city and will follow a good lead, but it takes men with initiative, originality and push to keep an organization up to the working point. The work will be done if it is mapped out, but all such organizations dwindle away for lack of two things—money and a definite plan to work upon. It takes money as well as time to do booster work effectively, and most of our cities make a spurt in that way and then lie down because they do not raise the money to carry out a regular campaign—a definite plan to either attract industries or establish some enterprises or undertaking that will attract newcomers.

The Star hopes the young men of the Twin City may succeed and that they will set a fine example for other North Carolina cities. Blowing for one's city is good, but to go after something and land it is what counts.

CURRENT COMMENT.

It is said that Butler is hopping mad because Cowles in the Eighth district is making a canvass with Doughton. This is strictly against Butler's orders, but Cowles seems to be a man with ideas of his own. However, Holton and the other speakers of more or less prominence, are obeying orders from the Washington boss all right.—Greensboro Record.

Vice President Sherman, it is announced will open the Republican campaign in North Carolina this year. We hardly think his speech or speeches will make many votes for the party candidates down there, but we do feel perfectly safe in asserting that he will not follow President Taft's Greensboro example of four years ago, and tell his hearers that it would be better for the Republican party in North Carolina if all the Federal offices in the State were held by Democrats. Mr. Sherman both advocates and practices the "loaves and fishes" policy in politics.—Norfolk Virginian Pilot.

The great cloak makers' strike in New York has ended. It involved a loss in wages to the strikers of about $10,000,000 and a loss to manufacturers jobbers and retailers all over the country of about $100,000,000. For nine weeks 70,000 workers have been out of employment. Ten thousand were on the eve of eviction into the streets, and many hundreds had already been evicted because of their inability to pay the rent. The strike was settled in accordance wih a plan proposed by Louis D. Brandeis, of Pinchot-Ballinger fame, and it is known as the "preferential union shop" idea. The manufacturers bind themselves to prefer union men when hiring help. There will be no more sweat shops, no more working of garments in squalid homes under unsanitary conditions. The lesson of the strike is simply that it was unnecessary. The millions of dollars lost, the suffering of the workers, were both useless. The injection of brains into the controversy would have settled it at its inception. So in every strike, it is recognized that some solution will eventually be found. Why not find it without paying a fearful price? Why not, for instance, in Columbus, Ohio, save the good name of the city by arbitrating the difficulties between the union and the company? Why no have compulsory arbitration?—Charlotte Observer.

As President Taft has seen fit to take the partisan side in the fight for Congress, he must be content to receive partisan criticism. In his letter for the Republican campaign book Mr. Taft declares that a Republican majority in Congress is essential to the success of the method of revision of the tariff by separate schedules, because the Democrats would oppose such piecemeal revision. That statement indicates how little the President knows about the history of Democratic attempts to revise the tariff. In 1892 a Democratic House of Representatives passed several separate bills to amend the tariff on a very similar plan to that now proposed by the President, but the Republican Senate defeated the following bills: To put binder twine on the free list; to remove all duties from cotton bagging; to abolish the protective rates on wool and woolen goods. As President Taft declared that the woolen schedule of the present law is indefensible, how can he blame the Democrats and charge them with refusing to do the very thing they did do long before Mr. Taft had evidently taken the trouble to think about the tariff? President Taft's advisers must be a sorry or a lazy lot to allow their chief to make such a partisan charge with no peg to hang it on.—Greensboro Record.

Mr. W. H. Humphrey mentioned in last Monday's Robesonian, the increased amount of work put upon his office—clerk of the court—on account of the indictment of over 400 citizens of the county for failing to list their taxes. That was a costly blunder for which he county had to pay. It cost the county more than $1,000, and the county got in return the princely sum of about $50. So many men who were indicted came up and proved that they had listed that the solicior decided there was nothing to do but to drop the whole batch. But the county had to pay. It was not the clerk's fault. The cases were dumped into his office and had to be handled, so the county commissioners very properly footed the bills. In that instance the office of county auditor proved very expensive to the county. To cite one instance of the way this thing worked: We understand that near Rowland five men—a father, his sons and tenants—were sick when the list-taker had his books open there. After the books were closed these men listed and one of them gave his check for $1.25 for listing the five of them. Yet they were indicted, and not only did they show that they had listed but exhibited the check for $1.25, endorsed by the county auditor. That was certainly a pretty howdy-do and to say that the men who were indicted after having listed did not appreciate it is putting it mildly.—Lumberton Robesonian.

The man who owns a share of bank stock worth $500 can borrow $400 on it any day without publicity or expense, but the man who owns a piece of land worth $500 can not borrow even $100 on it without paying a lawyer to investigate the title, paying to have a mortgage written, paying the fees to have it probated and recorded ,and then the whole transaction is made public. The Torrens system changes all this and makes the transfer of lands as simple and inexpensive as the transfer of a share of stock in a bank or corporation. It is a reform that ought to come in North Carolina and the farmers and merchants are particularly interested in securing that system. The Farmers' Union and other citizens of Anson county had a big meeting a few days ago and passed the following resolution: "We, the members of the Farmers' Union and citizens of Anson county, in mass meeting assembled, believing the Torrens system of registering titles to be the simplest and best method, do request our representative to use every legitimate means to enforce the use of the Torrens system of registering land titles." There is no single change in the law that is so much needed in North Carolina as to replace the present expensive and cumbersome system of land titles with the simple and inexpensive Torrens system.—Raleigh News and Observer.

RHEUMATISM
PAINFUL & DANGEROUS

Rheumatism is due to a diseased condition of the blood cells and corpuscles, brought about by an excess of uric acid in the circulation. It is not only a very painful disease but an extremely dangerous trouble. The briny, acrid state of the blood gradually forms a coating over the muscles, and by depositing a cement-like substance in the joints frequently terminates fatally, or leaves its victim a hopeless cripple. It is natural to "doctor" the spot that hurts, and it is quite right to use liniments, hot applications, etc., to get temporary relief from a painful joint or swollen tendon; but Rheumatism is not a skin disease, and such things, when depended on alone make one careless, and the disease gets a firmer hold on the blood. S. S. S. cures the disease because it is the greatest of all blood purifiers. It goes into the circulation, and removes every particle of the irritating uric acid, builds up the blood, makes it rich and oily, and in this way prepares it for the proper nourishment of all joints, muscles, nerves and bones. If you have Rheumatism, get the uric acid out of the blood by taking S. S. S., a purely vegetable medicine, and enjoy freedom from its misery. PROPOSALS ARE ISSUED

Bids Invited for Dredging Shallowbag Bay, South River, Bay River and Waterway Connection. Engineer's Office.

Proposals are being issued by the United States Engineer's office in this city, Capt. Earl I. Brown in charge, for dredging in the various rivers and harbors of this district, as provided for by the recent Rivers and Harbors Act. The first of these proposals was issued yesterday and is for dredging in connection with improving Shallowbag Bay, South river, Bay river, and waterway connecting Swan Quarter Bay with Deep Bay, all in North Carolina.

Three others will be issued in the next few days, covering group of Trent river, New river, waterway from Beaufort harbor to New river, and waterway from New river to Swansboro, group of Smith's creek, Morehead City harbor, and Beaufort harbor improvements, while the fourth one is for Cape Fear river at and below Wilmington. The total amount of the appropriation for this dredging is about $250,000.

The appropriation for the Cape Fear river is for about $200,000 worth of dredging, and is under that provision of the act directing bids to be solicited, and if they cannot be obtained at a figure for which the government could do the work, then so much of that amount as may be necessary is to be applied to the purchase or construction of a modern dredge.

The proposals will be opened in October, 30 days from the date of issuance. The proposals issued yesterday will be opened at the engineer's office in this city at 12 M. October 10th. The person or firm to whom the contract for the work or any part of it is awarded, will be required to commence work under the contract within 30 days after the date of receipt of notification of approval of the contract by the Chief of Engineers, U. S. Army, to prosecute the said work with faithfulness and energy, and to complete it within nine months after said date of notification.

Everybody is wondering why the store of Stewart & Otersen is so elaborately decorated. This is Hamilton Brown Week and is being celebrated the world over by the merchants selling the famous Hamilton Brown Shoes. You are invited to come and celebrate this week with us. We expected the usual splendid shoes this season from Hamilton Brown, but such shoes as they did send us. We're actually so proud of them that we have set aside this week especially to show them off. September 12th to 17th is Our Formal Opening of Fall Styles of Hamilton Brown Shoes. You'll be as enthusiastic as we are when you step into our store and examine the new H. B. line. The largest shoe house in the world has simply outdone itself. We will be mightily disappointed if you did not give us the privilege of showing you these fine Hamilton Brown Shoes. **

CUTTER DESTROYS DERELICT.

Located Abandoned Schooner Off Hatteras—Masts Blown Out.

After destroying the abandoned schooner Catherine M. Monohan, which was located in 100 feet of water about 20 miles off Cape Hatteras, the revenue cutter Seminole, Capt. R. O. Crisp, arrived in port yesterday towing two masts of the wrecked vessel. It required 13 gun-cotton mines to blow the four masts out of the schooner and the cutter crew worked for two days to get the derelict out of the path of navigation. The cutter located the schooner last Monday and with favorable weather on the following day began the work of blowing out the masts.

It will be recalled that the Monohan was abandoned by her crew in a leaking condition during the latter part of July. The crew made the lightship safely in their boats. The schooner was laden with cement and bound to Knight's Key, Fla.

THE CRYSTAL PALACE.

New Bill Goes on Monday—Theatre Drawing Large Crowds.

The increasing crowds and many favorable comments on all sides attest the superior quality of the bill and the able management of Mr. Frank Peiffer at the Crystal Palace, which opened for the season last Monday with a splendid attraction. Ladies and children are given special attention. Two performances are given in the afternoon, the first beginning at 3:30 and the second at 4:30, and at night the performances begin at 8:15 and 9:15. The programme for this week will consist of three high class vaudeville acts, motion pictures, illustrated songs by Mr. Ed. Reilly. The programme is changed Thursdays and Mondays. This week the offering will be Great Dippell, World's champion barrel jumper; Bonnie Rosedale, English character singing comedienne; Sammy Barton, the cute little tenor; impersonator of different nationalities.

FLESH-FORMING FOOD.

When you buy a package of Samose, the great flesh forming food, weigh yourself and see how much you gain in the first week's use. J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co., will tell of many of their customers who a month or so ago were thin, pale and haggard, but who are now, through the use of Samose, plump, strong and happy, with perfect health and attractive flesh. They have seen so many instances of the wonderful power of Samose to restore the weak and sick to strength and health, and to make good natural flesh that they give their personal gaurantee with every package of Samose they sell to refund the money if it does not prove satisfactry.

Samose is a pure preparation, and can be used with absolute confidence by the most delicate. It gives remarkable results with children who are weak and run down and without appetite.

BELLAMY FORMALLY NAMED

Democratic Candidate for the State Senate From This District—Made Ringing Speech of Acceptance —Convention.

Hon. George H. Bellamy, of Brunswick county, was formally nominated as the Democratic candidate for the State Senate to represent this Senatorial district in the next General Assembly, at the Senatorial convention held in the Court House at Southport yesterday afternoon, and he accepted in a ringing speech.

The convention was called to order shortly after 12 o'clock and organization was effected by the election of Mr. Martin O'Brien, of this city, chairman and Mr. M. Cronly, of this city, secretary. The chairman stated the purpose of the convention which was to nominate a candidate for the State Senate, or rather to ratify the action of the majority of the people of New Hanover and Brunswick counties in voting for Mr. Bellamy. Mr. M. C. Guthrie, of Southport, placed Mr. Bellamy in nomination and the same received a second from Mr. H. McL. Green, of this city. Mr. Bellamy was then declared the unanimous choice of the convention as the Democratic candidate for the office to which he aspires and to which he will undoubtedly be elected in November. The chairman appointed a sommittee, composed of Messrs. M. C. Guthrie and L. S. Fefel, of Brunswick, and H. E. Truelove, to notify Mr. Bellamy, who was in the building, of his nomination. Mr. Bellamy was escorted in the court room by the committee and made an excellent speech of acceptance, stirring up much enthusiasm and exciting those present to work for a much larger Democratic majority this year. Among the delegates from this county who attended were: Recorder John J. Furlong, County Treasurer H. McL. Green, Messrs. Fred T. Skipper, John W. Harper, W. B. Cooper, Martin O'Brien, Thomas Torpy, Ed. Truelove, Mike Cronly, W. B. Savage, A. D. Wessell and Sheriff S. P. Cowan. They went down on the steamer Wilmington yesterday morning and returned in the afternoon. There were some 25 or 30 persons in attendance from Brunswick county.

The New Hanover delegation held a meeting on the boat on the return trip and unanimously adopted a resolution of thanks to Mr. W. B. Cooper, president of The American National Bank, this city, who entertained the delegation at dinner at the Stuart Hotel. The resolution, offered by County Treasurer H. McL. Green, was as follows:

"Be it resolved that the thanks of the entire delegation be and are hereby extended to Mr. W. B. Cooper, president of The American National Bank, for the handsome manner in which the delegation was entertained at Hotel de Stuart for dinner."

EXPENSES OF PRIMARY.

Democratic Executive Committee Called to Meet Tuesday.

Marsden Bellamy, Esq., chairman of the County Democratic Executive Committee, yesterday issued a call for a meeting of the committee to be held in the Court House Tuesday at noon, the most important matter to be considered being with reference to the expenses for the primary to be held Thursday to determine the Democratic nominee for Congress in this district. It was understood at the meeting of the committee a few days ago that the special State committee had arranged for the payment of the expenses, but since then it has been learned that the committee left it for each county in the district to collect the cost of the voting contest from the candidates. Since the candidates have made no arrangements in this county for paying the expenses of the primary Mr. Bellamy deemed it advisable to call the committee together and put the matter before it for consideration. Some other matters of interest may also be taken up. The tickets and the registration books will probably be given out at this meeting.

THE NEW BEACH HOTEL.

Wilmington People Come Up With the Amount Needed Locally.

It was learned yesterday that nearly, if indeed not all, of the $50,000 desired from Wilmington people for the new $250,000 hotel for Wrightsville Beach has been subscribed, and that Mr. Carter, the promoter, expects to leave some time this week for Atlanta and other points to secure the remainder of the proposed capital of the enterprise. Local business men are enthusiastic over the proposition and without exception express the opinion that the hotel will be erected before the opening of another season. They believe that such a hotel as they propose to erect will be a paying investment from the start and it is certain that it would increase the fame of the already widely known resort.

FIRE AT CAROLINA BEACH.

Residence of Mr. H. A. Kure Considerably Damaged Friday.

Persons coming up from Carolina Beach yesterday reported that the residence of Mr. H. A. Kure came near being destroyed by fire Friday morning. The fire, which originated in the kitchen from a defective flue, was discovered about 11 o'clock and was making rapid progress. There were a number of visitors on the beach at the time and a bucket brigade was quickly former, Recorder John J. Furlong being elected chief of "the department" and Constable W. B. Savage assistant chief. Water was secured from a nearby tank. For nearly an hour the brigade fought the fire, finally subduing the flames. Insurance on the building and contents was held with the agency of Col. Walker Taylor, who went to the beach yesterday to ascertain the amount of damage.

TRAVELERS TO HAVE SMOKER

Cape Fear Council, U. C. T., Appoints Committee to Arrange for Event in October—Meeting Yesterday.

A well attended and enthusiastic meeting of Cape Fear Council, No. 374, United Commercial Travelers, was held in council hall, in the Murchison National Bank building, at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, at which it was decided to give a smoker the second Saturday night in October, which will be the time of the next meeting of the organization, and business matters of interest to the members of the council was transacted.

In the absence of Mr. W. O. Page, Senior Councilor, the meeting was presided over by Mr. David Ray, and Secretary L. H. Burnett was at his post. It was decided not to hold another meeting until the second Saturday in October at 8 P. M. Beginning with that date the council will meet the second and fourth Saturday nights in each month.

The following were named as the committee to arrange for the smoker: Messrs. A. G. Bowden, J. F. Powell, F. L. Dempsey, W. R. Peterson and C. J. Roberts. They will begin their plans immediately and the traveling men are expecting a most delightful time.

A committee to secure new paraphernalia and stir up greater interest in the work of the organization was named as follows: Messrs. C. J. Roberts, L. H. Burnett, W. O. Page, J. H. Mallard.

The annual meeting of the Grand Council of the Carolinas will be held next year in Greensboro and the local council expects to send a large delegation and a band. At the meeting the second Saturday night in October plans for attending the Grand Council meeting will be outlined.

BRIGADE LYCEUM COURSE.

Only Small Number of Season Tickets Remain Unsold.

The Lyceum Course which will be conducted by the members of the Boys' Brigade promises to be entirely successful from every viewpoint as is fully evidenced by the very rapid sale of season tickets, there being only 50 more left to be disposed of. It is understood that a great many of the patrons of this form of entertainment are deferring the purchase of tickets in the belief that these may be secured at any time but many will doubtless be disappointed as the seating capacity will not admit of more than 350 and 300 tickets have already been reserved. Only a few days will elapse ere these are all taken, after which a ticket cannot be secured at any price. For this same reason it is almost certain that no single ticket can be sold.

Those contemplating the purchase of tickets can secure them until the remaining 50 are disposed of by seeing Mr. Chas. Dushan, or by telephoning him at the Brigade armory any afternoon between the hours of 3 and 10 P. M. This is one of the best courses presented in Wilmington in years and will prove to be a real treat to ticket holders.

PLEDGE FOR PRIMARY.

Test Will Apply Only to Aliens Attempting to Participate.

A gentleman in the city yesterday, well posted in affairs political and quoting no less distinguished authority than ex-Governor Aycock, says that the pledge of party fealty required of voters in the Sixth District Congressional primary to be held this week, is intended only for those whose Democracy may be questioned and that the voter whose party affiliation is unquestioned is not required to take the pledge of support, etc. With the voting hours only from noon to night, if all voters are required to subscribe to the oath, it will be impossible for anything like the full Democratic strength to be polled and it is stated quite confidently that the committee in Raleigh had no such idea in view when the regulation was made, its intention being merely to bar from the primary such Republican voters as might have the effrontery to present themselves for participation in the primary.

SENT TO HIGHER COURT.

J. D. Futch Charged With Disposing of Mortgaged Property.

J. D. Futch, a white man of Pender county, was given preliminary hearing in Justice Harriss' court yesterday afternoon on the charge of disposing of mortgaged property, the case having been continued several times. It is alleged that Mr. R. T. Sanders, of the same county, held a mortgage on several cows which the defendant butchered, selling the beef in this city. Herbert McClammy and K. C. Sidbury, Esqs., apeared for the prosecution, while A. J. Marshall, Esq., of this city, and R. K. Bryan, of Scott's Hill, represented the defendant. The justice held that there was probable cause and bound the defendant over to the Recorder's court requiring a bond of $100, which was given. Owing to the fact that the lawyers will be engaged in Pender county Superior Court this week and probably a portion of next, the trial before the Recorder will not be held until Friday, September 23rd.

Leaves for Visit to Texas.

Mr. T. W. Wood will leave tomorrow morning for a visit of some days to the Lone Star State. He goes first to San Leon, a resort generally known as "The Bright Spot," in which his brother-in-law, Mr. T. H. Pace, is deeply interested and in which Mr. Wood has also invested. Several million dollars are being spent in the development of the resort. While away Mr. Wood will also visit Houston and Galveston.

Faithful Colored Man Dead.

Isaac Chapman, one of the oldest meat carriers in the Front street market, died at the James Walker Memorial Hospital last Thursday. He was a sufferer of asthama, which indirectly caused his death. For many years Ike was employed by Mr. Isaac Rhodes and was generally known as "Ike, the faithful." Many white people as well as colored will regret to learn of his death.

NOW THEY'RE OFF! ON TOMORROW!

Great Popularity Subscription Contest Begins at 8 o'clock-Early Start is Desirable-Votes, Coupons and Other Information.

Tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock the Morning Star's great subscription contest will be inaugurated, and will continue for eight weeks, closing on the night of Monday, November the 7th. Eight weeks seems a long time now, but the contestants who enter this contest will find that the time will pass away even all too quickly.

Clip out the nomination blanks which appear in this morning's paper, and fill in your own or your friend's name and send it to this office if you have not already done so.

Entries will be received at any time during the contest, but the ones entering first will without a doubt have a great advantage over any who enter later on.

The way to become a winner is to start at once, after subscriptions to the Morning's Star. If you do not secure a subscription today, you will have the promise of a subscription for later on in the contest, and a contestant who gets the promises now will have many subscriptions to his or her credit later on.

Full instructions, also receipt books, and contest literature may be had at the contest office for the asking. This office is situated directly across the street from the Morning Star office, on Princess street, and the 'phone number is 190.

Young Woman's Contest.

Contest No. 1 is for young women, married or single, and has been divided into six districts so that all of the contestants will not be working against each other.

In this contest the Star is offering four Grand Prizes, and 24 district prizes, consisting of $500.00 in cash, a handsome upright piano, two trips to Cuba, with all expenses, a Shetland Pony, Harness and Trap, six Handsome Diamond Rings, Six Turkish Rockers, Six Gold Watches and Six $25.00 Bank Accounts.

The young woman, city or country, who has the largest number of votes to her credit at the close of the contest will be awarded the $500.00 in cash. The second highest will be awarded the Piano. Third highest will receive the Trips to Cuba, selecting her own companion to accompany her, and the fourth highest will receive a Shetland Pony and complete outfit.

Should the second highest contestant, however, prefer the trips or the Pony to her Piano, she would be allowed the privilege of choosing her prize, as the largest numbers of votes of course, have first choice of the prizes.

Twenty-four District Prizes.

After the Four Grand Prizes have been awarded there will be 24 district prizes divided evenly among the six districts making four prizes sure to go to each of the six districts into which this contest has been divided.

A coupon good for five votes appears daily in the Morning Star, and of these a young woman may gather as many as she possibly can daily, and have her friends gather them for her, and if she sends them into the office before the date at the bottom has expired, they will each one count for five votes to her credit.

The nomination blanks which also appear daily, are to be used for nominating only, and only one will be credited to each contestant. These nominating blanks count for 2,000 votes, and enable the young woman to make a good start when she first enters the contest.

How Votes Are Secured.

Contestants and their friends may gather as many of the ten vote daily ballots as they can possibly secure, each one placing the candidate's names just that much nearer the Grand Prizes.

Another way to secure votes is to gather subscriptions to the Morning Star. Votes will be allowed on new subscriptions, on arrearges, and also on renewal of subscriptions.

Year's Subscription 3,000 Votes.

A year's subscription to the Morning Star is $6.00 and on that subscription 3,000 votes will be given on a new subscriber. The schedule on four months and six months subscriptions is also fully outlined in today's announcement. A full list of premiums, the schedule of votes, the distribution of the prizes, in fact every detail pertaining to the contest is fully explained in the full page announcement today.

Now is the time to enter the contest, for an early start is half the battle. Send in your name or that of your friend at once to the Contest Manager of the Morning Star, and get the contest fully explained, and the winning will be easy.

Who May Enter Contest.

Any young woman, married or single, residing in Wilmington or the States of North or South Carolina, is eligible to compete in this contest. A young woman does not have to be a subscriber to the paper in order to enter. All that is necessary is to send in the name and address, and assurance that the person entering is in good standing.

No relative or anyone connected with the Star office will be allowed as a contestant.

Contest No. 2—For Boys.

The Star has also put on a contest affording the hustling boys of its territory a chance to put in their spare time during the next few weeks before school opens to win a handsome prize for their efforts.

A coupon appears daily for the boys' contest, and each one of the votes counts for five, and the young man may secure as many of these as he possibly can get together. His friends may gather them and send them in for him, just so they are sent in before the date at the bottom has expired. They will count to the young man's credit for five votes each.

This contest is entirely separate from the contest for young women which has just been inaugurated, but the same schedule of votes will be used for both contests. That is 3,000 votes on a new yearly subscription, 1,000 votes on a new six months subscription, and 400 votes on a new four months subscription.

There will be three prizes for the young men in the city of Wilmington, and three prizes for young men outside of the city of Wilmington, so in that manner this contest has been divided into two districts. The first prize for each district for the young men will be $50.00 each in cash. The second prize for each of the two districts will be handsome gold watches, and the third prizes for each of the two districts will be smaller watches.

A young man may send in one of the nomination blanks, thereby starting his name in the paper with 2,000 votes, and he may gather as many of the five vote coupons as he can possibly secure. Besides that he may secure subscriptions to the Morning Star, and secure large number of votes on each one brought in.

Wanted, people who have been unable to get glasses that properly fit the eyesight to call on Dr. Vineberg, Masonic Temple, where satisfaction is guaranteed. Examination free. **

EVIDENCE WAS INSUFFICIENT.

Owen Jones, Colored, Not Guilty of Criminal Assault.

On a warrant charging him with criminal assault on Lizzie McArthur, colored, Labor Day, Owen Jones, a negro living on one of the sounds, was arrested yesterday morning by Deputy Sheriff Temple. The warrant was issued the day following the alleged assault but Jones was not located until yesterday morning. Superintendent of Streets Grant has known the negro for years and so firm was he in his belief in the negro's innocence that he employed L. Clayton Grant, Esq., to appear for the defendant. The hearing took place before Justice Bornemann yesterday afternoon and two hours was consumed in the taking of the testimony and argument of counsel. The prosecution was represented by Walter P. Gafford, Esq. The evidence adduced was insufficient to show probable cause and the case was dismissed.

FIRST GUN OF CAMPAIGN.

Iredell Meares, Esq., to Speak in Court House Tuesday Night.

The first gun of the campaign will be fired on Tuesday night of this week at 8 o'clock in the county Court House when Iredell Meares, Esq., Republican candidate for Congress in the Sixth District, will address the voters of New Hanover on National issues. Notices to this effect were sent out yesterday by Mr. J. W. Brooks, chairman of the Republican County Executive Committee, and Mr. Meares will no doubt be heard by a large crowd whether members of his audience agree with him in politics or not. He is a vigorous campaigner and at Lumberton tomorrow at the recess of Superior Court will formally open a campaign which will be pushed to every nook and corner of the district.

Bids for Street Improvement.

Elsewhere in today's paper by official advertisement the Street Commission calls for bids for the first of the permanent street work to be undertaken in Wilmington. The bids will be received until noon on October 15th and the work will begin as soon after the award of contract as possible. The advertisement gives all particulars.

OUT-OF-TOWN COUPLE MARRIED HERE YESTERDAY.

Mr. James D. Guthrie, of Shelbyville, Ky., a well known traveling man, who has many friends in this city, and Miss Mary C. Basil, an attractive and accomplished young lady of Baltimore, were married in the parlors of The Orton Hotel, this city, at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, the ceremony being impressively performed by Rev. Dr. A. D. McClure, pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church. The nuptial event was witnessed by only a few friends. The bride and her aunt, Miss Crummer, arrived Thursday from Baltimore and have been guests at the Orton. Mr. Guthrie also arrived a few days ago. He represents a large flour house and has been coming to Wilmington for several years and is one of the most popular traveling men who visit this city. Mr. and Mrs. Guthrie will make their home in Shelbyville, Ky., and will leave Wilmington tomorrow.

WEEK'S SOCIAL ITEMS AT CLARKTON, N. C.

Clarkton, N. C., Sept. 10.—The Pleasure Hearts were very delightfully entertained last night by Misses Isabelle and Hattie Cromartie and Miss Amelia Wooten. The entertainment consisted of a Character Party and many of the young pepole were indeed clever in their different roles, chief among which was Miss Hattie Cromartie, who characterized an old-time Southern mammy and kept the crowd highly entertained with a dialect which was exceedingly clever, as was her rendition of some songs of the old days. Mr. Clarence Clark was a typical clown—he 'fit' the case exactly, while Miss Vera Croom, as naughty "Sis Hopkins" and Miss Carolyn Duffy as dainty "Mary Jane" demanded constant attention. Miss Rose Clark's representation of the proverbial "Old Maid" was particularly good and during the evening she gave a bit of advice to the young ladies present, in the form of a poem beginning "Lives of old maids should remind you your sweet charms won't last always," etc. Miss Annie Burney as "Maud Muller" was also particularly good. Various games were indulged in during the evening and delightful refreshments served. Miss Vera Croom received the prize for the best (or rather worst) looking costume. There were about 30 couples and among this number the out-of-town guests were as follows: Miss Florence Leach, Chase City, Va.; Miss Carolyn Duffy, Wilmington; Miss Vera Croom, Cronly, and Mr. Roy Dunn, Lancaster, S. C.

Prof. Dunn has taken charge of the Clarkton Academy opened the 5th of September, with a good enrollment.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. D. Hedrick have returned to their home after a very pleasant visit to New York and Philadelphia.

SURPRISE MARRIAGE IN THIS CITY LAST NIGHT.

Coming as quite a surprise to their many friends in this city and county is the announcement of the marriage of Mr. James F. Swan, a well known young business man of this city, and Miss Lula B. Edens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin N. Edens, of Scott's Hill, which was celebrated at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. C. A. Martin, pastor of Southside Baptist church, at 8 o'clock last evening in the presence of only a few intimate friends. Miss Edens returned yesterday afternoon from a visit of two weeks to friends and relatives at Burgaw and immediately upon her arrival the necessary papers were secured from the office of the Register of Deeds. All other arrangements were quickly made and the plans of the young couple were executed with utmost precision. So well were their plans carried out that only a few friends knew anything of the marriage until after the ceremony, when the young couple were showered with felicitations and best wishes. It is understood that there was no objection to the match, the couple merely having a liking for romance and also desiring to avoid a formal wedding. For the present Mr. and Mrs. Swan will make their home with Mr. Swan's father at No. 604 South Fifth street.

Mr. Swan is captain of the baseball team of the Wilmington Athletic Association, recently organized by a number of the young men of the city, with headquarters at Fifth and Castle streets. He is very popular among a wide circle of friends who extend to him hearty congratulations upon winning the hand of one so fair.

THE TIDEWATER PERMIT.

Up to the Company and Not Private Owners to Provide Conveniences.

Since there has been some misconstruction of an article recently appearing in the Star and some have been disposed to attach some odium to the private owners of the property at northeast corner of Front and Princess streets, forsooth, because they did not see fit to allow the erection of a shed over the sidewalk alongside the property as a waiting room for the Tidewater Power Co., the Star is very glad to say that the Bear Brothers, owners of the property, are as public spirited and as accommodating as any Wilmington citizens and would be the last to discommode the public, but they very properly do not see why they should be called upon to provide a waiting room for the Tidewater Power Co., anymore than anyone else; neither could they afford to give permission for the erection of a shed or awning over the sidewalk of their store without consulting the wishes of their tenants. The Star regrets if it conveyed any other impression than that they were entirely within their rights in refusing the permission or that their failure to grant the privilege desired was anything more than a protection of their own interests for which no blame can be attached.

CASES TO SUPREME COURT.

Records Forwarded to Raleigh Yesterday by Deputy Clerk.

Deputy Clerk of Superior Court W. N. Harriss sent to Raleigh last evening by express statement of appeal in the case of Jas. H. Scull & Co., against the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company, an action for penalty damages for a delay in the delivery of goods to the plaintiff concern. The case was decided in Superior Court in favor of the defendant and the plaintiff appealed to Supreme Court. The record in the case of Gregg against the city of Wilmington was also forwarded to Raleigh yesterday, but will not come up for argument at the Fall term of court. The record in the case of Gregg against Woolvin, virtually the same suit, will be sent up in a few days. There are a number of other cases to be sent up during the week.

JOINT MEETING OF BRIGADE.

Plans for Fall and Winter Work to be Mapped Out Monday Night.

There will be a very important business meeting of all the members of the Boys' Brigade Monday night at 8:15 o'clock. This will be the first joint meeting of the two companies and in this respect marks an epoch in the history of the organization. At this time Maj. W. R. Dosher and the new officers of Company B will assume their obligations in their official capacity.

Plans for the Fall and Winter work will also be presented by the chairmen of the various committees and other matters of importance will be discussed. A full attendance is especially requested for the meeting.

STEALING CHICKENS.

Negro Youth Convicted of This Charge Yesterday Morning.

In the Recorder's court yesterday morning Substitute Recorder George Harriss, presiding, Oscar Bethea, a negro youth, was given hearing on the charge of stealing chickens. He was arrested yesterday morning by Patrolman C. A. Bradshaw, suspicion being directed toward him because he was offering for sale chickens at an extremely low price. Bethea lives in the section of the city known as Rock Hill and shortly after his arrest a negro woman residing in the same neighborhood, is said to have identified one of the chickens in Bethea's possession as her property. The defendant was found guilty and sentenced to three months on the county roads.

TWO BIG HAULS MULLETS.

About 6,000 Bunches Were Caught Yesterday at Wrightsville.

Fishermen at Wrightsville yesterday made the two largest hauls of the season and over 6,000 bunches of mullets were caught. The fish were caught in the seines of Dock Mason, one haul being made in the morning and another in the afternoon.

Mullets have been running lively along the North Carolina coast during the past few days and in all there were some 30,000 fish landed by the fishermen at Wrightsville yesterday.

CAPE FEAR ACADEMY.

Prof. Washington Catlett's School Opens Wednesday Morning.

The 38th session of Cape Fear Academy, of which Prof. Washington Catlett is the beloved principal, will open Wednesday of this week. This is one of the best known schools in eastern North Carolina and many are the prominent men in various walks of life throughout the State who received their education at this institution. Every pupil has personal instruction under the principal with no crowded classes. The prospects are indeed bright for a most successful school year and already a number of new pupils have been entered. The school is located at 117 Orange street.

LOCAL DOTS.

—Owing to the illness of the pastor, Rev. E. R. Welch, Mr. Henry Bowden will fill the pulpit at Trinity Church this morning and Mr. Mintz in the evening. The public is cordially invited.

—Rev. Miles J. Walton, of Florence, S. C., who is visiting friends in this city, will preach at Southside Baptist church this evening at 8 o'clock. The morning service will be conducted by the pastor, Rev. G. A. Martin, the Lord's Supper following the sermon.

—Locky Short, colored, charged with the larceny of some clothing from the home of Blanche Best, colored, was given hearing before Justice Harriss yesterday morning. The evidence was insufficient to sustain the charge and the action was dismissed. Walter P. Gafford, Esq., appeared for the defendant.

—The Southern Sign Shop, of this city, Mr. Jim Satchwell, proprietor, has just completed for the Southern National Bank what is regarded as one of the finest and largest gold signs in the South. The sign is on the rear of the building, facing the river front, and has attracted considerable attention from persons on the wharf.

—At the Bijou tomorrow will be shown "A Boarding School Romance," a refined comedy of an unusually strong type, "The New Boss of Bar X Ranch," a thrilling and exciting story of the West. The attendance upon the performances at the theatre are on the increase and every afternoon and evening the place is crowded with interested spectators.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

—Among the guests at The Orton yesterday were: H. E. Rice, Kinston; H. T. Bowen, Burgaw, and D. G. Robeson, Red Springs.

Negro Woman Shot.

From meager reports received at police headquarters shortly after midnight there was a lively fight between several negroes at a colored restaurant, on Red Cross, between 12th and 13th streets, about 11:30 o'clock last night, in which a negro woman, whose name the officers have not been able to learn, was shot, but not seriously wounded, by a negro man, whose name is also unknown to the officers. The negro woman went to the hospital to have her wound dressed, but left the institution while preparations were being made to give her attention.

Concerts at Lumina.

Concerts at Lumina continue to prove very attractive to the people of Wilmington. Last Sunday both the afternoon and night concerts were well patronized, and with good weather there will no doubt be a large number of people on hand to hear the two concerts that will be given at Lumina today. In the advertising columns will be found the full programme for both concerts, and it will be seen that the list contains many selections that are popular with those who visit Lumina.

Lighthouse Now Open.

The Lighthouse has opened for the season, and oyster roasts are now being served there. The Lighthouse is under new management, Mr. J. O. Bowden, of Wrightsville, being in charge of the place. Mr. Bowden has made a number of improvements to the place, among them being the installation of a new roaster. Mr. Bowden announces that he will serve the genuine old fashioned "roast," and not steamed oysters. The Lighthouse will no doubt be a very popular place this season.

Forgetful.

Absentminded Annette belongs to a club of young women in the west end of town. She went to a bridal shower given by the club and left her present at home.

"I'm so sorry that I forgot it," she said.

"Never mind," the other girls told her. "You can send it around later."

A few weeks later the club gave another bridal shower, and again Annette left her gift at home.

"Do you know what I've done?" she said when she discovered her mistake. "I've forgotten my present."

No one felt disposed to help her out.

"But, then," she added, "didn't one of the girls forget her present last time, and didn't we say it would be all right if she sent it around later? I'm sure that happened to somebody."—Newark News.

Hampered by Conventionalities.

Washington was crossing the Delaware river at Trenton.

"Of course," he said, "I don't mind standing up in this boat and gazing sternly in the direction of the unsuspecting foe, since the artists insist on depicting me in this absurd attitude, but the blithering chumps ought to know better than to paint these blocks of floating ice projecting a foot above the water. Any man with an ounce of gumption knows that the ice in this river isn't eight feet thick."

Angered by these reflections, he fell upon the Hessians shortly afterward with extreme ferocity.—Chicago Tribune.

AFTER SUFFERING FOR YEARS

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Park Rapids, Minn.—"I was sick for years while passing through the Change of Life and was hardly able to be around. After taking six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I gained 20 pounds, am now able to do my own work and feel well."—Mrs. ED. L. DOU, Park Rapids, Minn.

Brookville, Ohio. "I was irregular and extremely nervous. A neighbor recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to me and I have become regular and my nerves are much better."—Mrs. R. KINNISON, Brookville, Ohio.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials are on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., from women who have been cured from almost every form of female complaints, inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration. Every suffering woman owes it to herself to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

If you want special advice write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for it. It is free and always helpful.

Take Off The Fat Where It Shows

Most women suffer much humiliation because of great quantities of fat, so located that, no matter ow they dress, everybody sees that they are abnormal. This is the day of the slender figure, and fat women are simply not tolerated either in business or social affairs. Women may not know it, but men when they see a fat woman pass them on the street or in public places make all manner of sympathetic remarks about her. They do not mean to be unkind or to seem unmanly, but it is natural for a man to dislike fat on a woman. Where fat shows the most there is where it must be removed, and as quickly as possible. This season's dresses seem to be made for the fat woman's misery and the slender woman's delight. They expose all the charms of woman and her agilness as well. Exercise and diet will not remove fat. This has been proved. The famous Marmola prescription which has met with such phenomenal success and has so many of our society women as its sponsors, is now being sold in tablet form to meet the demand of the public for this style of treatment. These little tablets go into your system just like food. They stop the stomach and digestive apparatus from producing fat an dreduce the fat upon the body at the rate of from 12 to 15 ounces a day. They are harmless and can be carried in your purse and taken even after you have indulged in a hearty meal away from home. They are sold at all drug stores at 75 cents a case, or if you prefer you may write the Marmola Company, 906 Farmer Building, Detroit, Mich.

Make Money as Millionaires Make Theirs

Buy Stock in a Great Big Invention at the Start. It Will Double and Treble and Increase Many Fold and Earn You Large Dividends All the Time.

Andred Carnegie, Russell Sage, Jay Gould and other past master in the art of making money laid down the rule: "Put your money into a healthy enprise showing possibilities of large earnings at the beginning. Do not wait until it is earning big dividends, because then you will have to buy on a basis that will return you only 5 to 6 per cent.

You must be sure there in merit, a large demand and big profits. Seize anyopportunity without a moment's delay to secure an interest in the beginning in an enterprise which meets these requirements.

The American Telegraph Typewriter is pronounced by experts the greatest electrical invention since the telegraph and telephone, both of which made enormous fortunes for the original stockholders.

The American Telegraph Typewriter is a perfect telegraph instrument.

It sends a message over either telegraph or telephone wries (without interfering with telephone conversation at the same time), and immediately transcribes it in plain Englishon a typewriter in Chicago, St. Louis, New Orleans' or at any distance whatever four times as fast as the "Morse" System of dots and dashes, without requiring the services of a professional operator.

Merit Absolutely Proved.

By its daily operation between New York and Philadelphia for the past three months.

By its commercial use on the Long Island Railroad for over a year. The Electrical Superintendent of the Road says: "We find the system economical, flexible and rapid, and consider it invaluable in railroad service." THE ROAD HAS ORDERED ADDITIONAL MACHINES.

Profits are Enormous.

The machines are not sold, but rented for telephone wires (without into graph purposes at $150 per year. The cost to manufacture is less than $150—profit the first year $100—200 per cent. Thereafter the yearly rental ($150) is all profit, less cost of maintenance, which is nominal.

On the installation of 5,000 machines—orders for which are on hand today—the permanent income of the Company will be $750,000 yearly—12 1-2 per cent on the price of the stock today.

On the installation of 20,000 machines—which we can easily place this year with the necessary factory facilities—the permanent income of the Company will be $3,000,000 yearly—50 per cent on the price of the stock today.

On the installation of 300,000 machines—which is a low estimate of the requirements of the railroads, newspapers and business corporations—the permanent income of the Company will be $45,000,000 yearly—750 per cent on the price of stock today.

Demand Almost Unlimited.

The fortunes that will be made by those interested cannot even be approximately estimated, so great is the demand in the commercial world on account of the time-saving and economical features of this machine.

J. B. FARMER & CO.
502 Southern Building, Wilmington, N. C.

Gentlemen—Kindly send me your literature giving proof of the large earning power of stock in American Telegraph Typewriter Co., and why big dividends should be paid almost immediately.

.....

E. J. 7 .....

It is indispensable to railroads, as evidenced by orders from

The New York Central,
The Long Island Railroad,
The Pennsylvania Lines,
McAdoo Tunnel,
The Delaware, Lackawana and Western.

It is invaluable to newspapers as is shown by the order from

The New York City News Association—to be placed in the offices of the following New York newspapers: Herald, Evening Telegram, World, Evening World, Times, Tribune, Press, Mail, Globe, American, Evening Journal, Das Morgen Journal, Staats Zeitung, Evening Post, New York Herald, Brooklyn Daily Eagle, Morning Telegraph and the Associated Press.

Large business concerns in every line of industry have use for this machine, as established by orders from

The Texas Company—which is paying 8 per cent cash dividends on its original capital, and also on the $13,000,000 stock divi dend recently distributed to stockholders.

These facts answer conclusively on the points of merit, profit and demand. Further confirmation is supplied by an order from the United States Government.

Machines Now Being Made.

Consider the additional fact that in the few short weeks since we first offered stock to investors, the Company has made such progress that it is now manufacturing 5,000 machines to fill orders on hand. Deliveries should begin during October.

Is not an enterprise doing business with concerns you know to be the strongest in the country and that makes progress at the rate we are making it, the kind of a company you want to own stock in? Today you can buy shares at $6.00 (par value $10.00).

Do not wait till October—then begin deliveries on orders for 5,000 machines and you will see the American Telegraph Typewriter in operation at the newPennsylvania Station (finest railroad depot in the world); on the New York Central Railroad; in the office of practically every newspaper in New York City. Then everybody will be clamoring for stock and no one can tell the figure at which the shares will be selling. Donot wait a single day.

the allotment to be sold at $6.00 is being bought up rapidly by bankers, lawyers, merchants, business men and prudent investors in every walk of life, and an advance will take place any day. Delay will simply lose money for you and may lose you the opportunity altogether, as later we will not have any stock for sale at any price.

If you cannot call at our office, mail your order. In any event, investigate this unequalled opportunity. if you doubt one single word in this advertisement, ask us to prove it. Sign and mail the coupon.

QUIET DAY ON COTTON MARKET

Near Months Relatively Firm in Sympathy With Liverpool Cables—Steadier Spot Situation in South—Sellers Encouraged.

New York, Sept. 10.—The cotton market was quiet today and no important change occurred in prices; the close being barely steady net unchanged to three points lower.

The opening was steady at unchanged prices to an advance of eight points, near months being relatively firm in sympathy with the Liverpool cables, and on the reports of a steadier spot situation in the South. But there was evidently a feeling in the local market that the Liverpool strength represented an extension of old crop conditions into September through the operations of the bull leaders, which could exert little more than a sentimental or temporary influence here and offerings were quite heavy at the initial advance. Sellers were probably encouraged by reports that the West Indian storm was losing its force south of Cuba while higher temperatures in the Northwest were also reassuring as to weather conditions and right after the opening prices eased off to about the closing figures of last night on September and to a net loss of three and seven points on later months. Threats of labor troubles in Manchester appeared to make no important impression, but as they were accompanied by continuous talk of mill curtailment in this country the immediate trade situation seemed to foster bearish sentiment and while the market rallied from the low point on covering, business was quiet on the advance, and seemed to be chiefly in the way of evening up for over Sunday. The week end figures showed a decrease of 2,948 bales in the world's visible supply of American cotton comparing with an increase of 30,328 bales last year, but bullish statistics appear to be losing force as a speculative factor with the nearer approach of a general new crop movement. Further freight room engagements are reported for Liverpool and it is claimed that September shorts in Liverpool are attempting to get some cotton from the local stock.

Receipts at the ports today 20,901 bales against 18,814 last week and 28,643 last year. For the week 140,000 bales against 94,815 last week and 241,526 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 41 2bales against 770 bales last year and at Houston 9,373 bales against 12,234 last year.

Spot closed quiet; middling uplands 14 cents; middling gulf 14.25; no sales.

DEMAND FOR STOCKS LACKING

Stagnant Condition of the Market Demonstrated Yesterday—Absence of Selling Pressure. Money Market Factor.

New York, Sept. 10.—The sentiment of satisfaction over the immediate financial outlook which is gathered by inquiry finds its only reflection in the stock market in an absence of selling pressure. The handful of stocks, which changed hands during the day's session is a demonstration of the stagnant demand.

The present strength of the money position in New York is felt to be due to the restraint of the stock market for several months past. The desirability of conserving money resources for the Fall is a prime factor in the present stagnation of the stock market. Returns to the comptroller show that New York national banks expanded loans nearly $30,000,000 from June 30 to September 1st., but are discounting for interior banks and commercial accommodation were responsible for this and not stock market credit. It is significant that funds for out of town banks are appearing in New York again to be placed in collateral loans. The rapid marketing of new grain it is believed, will be supplying resources to farmers for liquidation of loans on land and automobile purchases and the favorable effect is looked for in the returns of National banks of condition on September 1st, which are now being compiled by the controller.

Predicted frosts in the corn belt having failed to appear there was a decline in that market. The surplus of idle freight cars showed another sharp contraction. Another decline in Union Pacific convertible bonds was an advance in the stock, was considered to be designed to a disparity in the proportionate prices of the two securities.

The actual showing of the bank statement was closely on the agreement with preliminary estimates.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales par value $620,500. United States bonds are unchanged on call from last week. Total sales for the day 53,100 shares, including C. & O. 200; Reading 9,500; Southern Railway 200; U. P. 13,100; U. S. Steel 11,200; V. C. C. 100.

THE GRAIN MARKET.

Chicago, Sept. 10.—Liquidation said to be largely for a prominent speculator who was a big factor in the July wheat trade and who changed his July holding to December, weakened prices today. A less important course was sympathetic depression with corn, predicted frosts having failed to do any serious damage. The finish in wheat was 3-8 to 3-4 under last night's figures. Corn showed a net loss of 3-4 to 1 3-8 to 1 1-2, and oats 1-4 to 3-8. Latest quotations for hog products were at 7 1-2 advance to 2 1-2 decline.

Cash close: Wheat No. 2 red 96 7-8 to 97 1-2; No. 3 red 95 to 96 1-2; No. 2 hard 96 3-8 to 99; No. 3 hard 94 1-2 to 97; No. 1 Norhtern 114 to 115; No. 2 Northern 113 to 114; No. 3 Northern 112 to 114; No. 2 Spring 99 to 108; No. 3 Spring 98 to 104; velvet chaff 92 to 97; durum 89 to 94.

COTTON ADVICES FAVORABLE.

Trade Looking for Close Squeeze in Liverpool on September.

(Special Star Telegram.)

New York, Sept. 10.—From Europe the advices were favorable, but offset by the disappearance of the storm in the gulf, which brought about the recovery yesterday afternoon. The market was a small one throughout the session without a tendency toward a lower level, though the trade looks for a close squeeze in Liverpool on September.

Mail advices from that market state that the stock of cotton held there on consignment from New York is offered for sale on a basis sharply below the price on which cotton can be imported. It is of course, sold at this level, with the restriction that it must not be tendered for delivery. After the close selling orders came from the South and were placed at from three to four points lower than the last quotation. Spinners have bought freely during the last ten days at this level of prices, and the future course of the market depends on their action, which in turn we believe will be governed by the weather. It is thought by the trade that any decline will be slow.

If the Democrats of North Carolina keep on naming their strong men for the legislature, the General Assembly which is to meet next January, will be the most representative of all the legislatures for many years. Now comes Robeson county with a proposition to send to the House of Representatives Dr. B. F. McMillan. Dr. McMillan is a gentleman of splendid qualifications and takes rank with the best men in the State. As a legislator he would be an honor both to his county and State.—Wilmington Star. That sort of nomination is what is making a Democratic victory a sure thing.—Durham Sun.

'Tis sad to reflect that many a winsome lassie who reigned as a queen beside the salt sea waves is now selling ribbons.—Asheville Citizen.

What They Will Do for You

They will cure your backache, strengthen your kidneys, correct urinary irregularities, build up the worn out tissues, and eliminate the excess uric acid that causes rheumatism. Prevent Bright's Disease and Diabates, and restore health and strength. Refuse substitutes.

ROBERT R. BELLAMY.

To praise Osawatomie Brown and denounce mobs and violence in the same breath looks very much like standing still to make a noise.—Jacksonville Times-Union.

The tariff on hosiery is 89.75 per cent on the cheaper grades. The import book gave the unit value of 29,000,000 pairs at more than 6 1-2 cents. This means that the wives and daughters of the American laborers will be required to pay a hosiery tariff tax of $1,754,500 on these stockings.—Pensacola News.

We have often wondered how any sane mind could regard such a weather-cock and gasbag as Roosevelt is, as a great man. Now a Wilmington lad comes nearer justifying such an estimate than either Jacob Riis or Joe Chapple. The boy says that the fellow must be great who has flung the lie into the teeth of nearly every important personage in the country without once having the insult returned.—Norfolk Virginian Pilot.

If a congressman can be arrested for gaining an office by bribery shall we live to see a President forced to testify as to like means in a like cause? Sibley is charged with spending four dollars for every vote he got: Roosevelt admits that he raised money and Harriman testifies that 50,000 votes were changed by it. Is it a Square Deal to arrest Sibley and let Roosevelt continue to pose as the model of all that is honest and pure? —Jacksonville Times-Union.

The Wilmington Star says that "if the Democrats of North Carolina keep on naming their strong men for the Legislature, the General Assembly which is to meet next January will be one of the most representative of all the legislatures for many years." That is a bully good idea that the North Carolina Democrats have taken up, and we hope they will hold fast to it. And we wish, too, that the same idea would fasten itself upon the Democrats of Georgia.—Savannah News.

Mississippi is reported to have reached a stage of corn-production which enables her to supply home demands and export a surplus to Europe. The Commonwealth is to be congratulated upon a showing which proves that its agricultural classes are at least beginning to learn the unwisdom of one-crop farming. North Carolina has also made great progress in corn-raising in recent years, but so far we have heard of no foreign exportation of the cereal from that State. Down there what isn't ground into meal is liquified and consumed as the "real stuff."—Norfolk Virginian Pilot.

PROPOSALS INVITED.

Sealed proposals for grading, paving and curbing certain streets in and for the city of Wilmington, N. C., will be received by the Commissioners of Streets at the City Hall, up to 12 o'clock noon, October 15th, 1910, and at that time they will be opened and publicly read, addressed to Louis S. Belden, Chairman, and endorsed 'Proposals for Paving Streets."

The work for which proposals are invited consists approximately of 93,300 square yards of pavement, and 19,000 lineal feet of granite curb.

Each proposal must be accompanied with a certified check in the sum of 5 per cent. of the contract price, made payable to the Commissioners of Streets of the city of Wilmington.

Specifications and blank forms of proposals can be obtained by application to the Chairman of the Commissioners of Streets, and a full set of plans can be seen at the office of the Engineer of the Commissioners of Streets.

The right is reserved to reject any and all bids.

NEW JERSEY POLITICS.

Trenton, N. J., Sept. 10.—Within a few days it will be definitely known who are to be the nominees of the Democratic and Republican parties for the governorship of New Jersey. State primaries will be held on Sept. 13th, at which time voters will be given an opportunity to express their preference, and on Sept. 15th the Democrats will hold their State convention. This will be followed by the Republican convention Sept. 20th. The most likely candidate of the Republicans is Vivian M. Lewis, and perhaps his nomination will be opposed more earnestly if Dr. Woodrow Wilson, of Princeton University, is chosen by the Democrats. Frank Katzenbach, Jr., is trying for the Democratic endorsement, and he may be the winner in the convention.

serve my party and State in this emergency by voluntarily doing what my enemies have so persistently demanded. I therefore return my nomination to the Democratic party. I notify both the State Executive Committee and the independent Democratic convention that I am no longer a candidate for Governor.

"In taking this step our party should not be left without a capable leader, and I hope that with harmonious action another candidate, wholly unobjectionable, may be named and such a platform adopted as will insure party co-operation and success.

"It would be an unmixed evil and a reproach to Tennessee for the Republican party to get control of our State government and it is especially true at this time when the country is aroused and the battle is on between special interests and popular rights.

"It is scarcely believable that a discredited Republican President should attempt to control the politics of a Democratic State or that any man calling himself a Democrat should lend him dishonorable aid to its consummation.

"Our State should be governed by its friends and not its enemies; by the party that represents its credit and intelligence, the education of its people and that in the past has stood for its women, its homes and its every civilization. I have been an enthusiast over the possibilities of our State and the South. They can be realized in loyalty and high-mindedness and never in disloyalty and sordid purpose.

"With all my zeal and soul I have combatted intolerance and fanaticism, which had soared and blistered all they have touched, and have tried to lead our people out of the bogue and mire of error into which designing and vicious men have led them.

"I have never performed a public act of which I am ashamed, and every one was for the good of the State. I have extended mercy to the helpless, and served the State as best I could, while a storm of hate and vituperation raged about me. I have advanced the cause of education and have stood for those things which are worthy and enduring in a commonwealth. When prohibition was first raised, as an issue I opposed it without the consent of the people, and foresaw the innumerable train of evils which would follow its enactment, the dissension which would come and the opportunity which would be afforded for the demagogue to ply his trade and prey upon the State in the name of a false morality.

"During my remaining service as Governor I will continue to act as in the past, and on my retirement to private life I can look back upon my record with pride, for there is not a blot or a stain upon it.

"To my thousands of friends who have never faltered in their allegiance and who represent the conservative citizenship of the State, I send from my heart a message of thanks and good will." (Signed.)

"MALCOLM R. PATTERSON."

VARNADO HEADS POSTMASTERS

Elected President of National Association at Atlantic City.

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 10.— J. O. Varnado, postmaster at Valdosta, Ga., was today elected president of the National Association of second and third class postmasters, which closed a three days convention here this afternoon. The convention will meet next year at Washington, D. C., on a date to be named by the executive committee.

Mrs. Helen D. Longstreet, postmaster at Gainesville, Ga., a widow of the famous Southern chieftain, General James Longstreet, has served for a number of years as vice president for Georgia in the National Association. She had much to do with the organization of the Georgia Association of presidential postmasters and with the plans which brought to Gainesville the first meeting the organization ever had in the South. Mrs. Longstreet today declined a re-election to the vice presidency for her State and Miss Lizzie Hamilton, postmaster at Buford, Ga., was chosen in her stead.

Among those who addressed the convention today were Alexander C. Grant, general superintendent of the railway mail service. He said the government is not wasting a cent in the vast postal system and declared that the government in paying the railroads millions of dollars a year for carrying the mails, is giving millions of dollars worth of service in return. He reviewed the growth of the service and stated that the standard of service is steadily improving.

CABINET TO MEET SOON.

President Sends Out Call for Sept. 24th—Plan Long Session.

Beverly, Mass., Sept. 10.—A call for the first meeting in two months of President Taft's cabinet has been sent out and the members will report to their chief in Washington on September 24th. Nearly all will turn their steps toward the capital before that time, including Secretary of War Dickinson, who is completing a trip around the world; Attorney General Wickersham, and Secretary of Commerce and Labor Nagel, who have toured Alaska together, and Secretary of the Interior Ballinger. The cabinet members will be guests of the President at the White House and the session will be practically continuous for three days, after which the President will go to New York to speak before the meeting of the National League of Republican Clubs.

The President will resume his vacation here about October 1st. Just how long he will remain in Beverly has not yet been decided.

The Poppy Bee.

The poppy bee is the artist of the honey makers, though she builds her nest in a hole in the ground, burrowing down about three inches. At the bottom she makes a large hole and lines it gloriously with the scarlet petals of the red poppy. She cuts and fits the gorgeous tapestry perfectly, then partly fills the cell with honey, lays an egg, folds down the red blankets and covers the hole so that it cannot be observed, leaving the baby bee to look after itself in its rosy nest.

Thrilling.

Sir John Benn recently related a story of a boy who was asked what he would like to be.

The boy said, "A lighthouse keeper."

The schoolmaster asked, "Why?"

The boy replied, "It would be so nice to sit up at the top of the lighthouse and see all the wrecks going to pieces below."—Dundee Advertiser.

Lacked Something.

"Dey say dat dis yere radium can turn a cullud pusson white," said Uncle Rastus, "but it cain't make a complete an' finished job on it onless it kin wipe out his appetite fo' policy, pu'simmons an' possum."—Washington Star.

DUST OF BITUMINOUS COAL

Explosive More Insidious, Threatening and Deadly Than Fire Damp, Says Bureau of Mines—Some Instances Cited.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Washington, D. C., Sept. 10.—That the dust of bituminous coal is an explosive more insidious, threatening and deadly to the miner that firedamp, is the assertion of Geo. S. Rice, chief mining engineer of the Bureau of Mines.

This is contrary to what has been the general belief, nevertheless it has been proved beyond doubt by the experiments of the last two years at the Pittsburg Testing Station of the United States Geological Survey, which is now a part of the Bureau of Mines. While many mine operators and miners have believed that coal dust would ignite from an explosion of firedamp in a mine, nearly all of them contended that the dust in a mine free from gas could not explode. Consequently, in many mines, where no firedamp could be detected, miners have paid little attention to the accumulation of dust from the cutting of the coal, and it is in these mines, Mr. Rice declares, some of the great disasters have taken place.

In a bulletin which has just been issued by the Bureau, Mr. Rice refers especially to the appalling series of great, wide-sweeping disasters that occurred in the United States in 1907, as evidence of the terrible havoc wrought by dust explosions. On January 23, at the Primero mine, Colorado, there were 24 deaths; on January 26, at the Penco mine, West Virginia, 12 deaths; on January 29, at the Stuart mine, near Fayetteville, W. Va., 90 deaths; on February 4, at the Thomas mine, Thomas, W. Va., 25 deaths; on December 1, at the Naomi mine, Pennsylvania, 35 deaths; on December 6, at the Monongah mine, West Virginia, occurred the greatest disaster in the history of coal mining in the United States, 358 lives having been lost; on December 16, at the Yolande mine, Ala., 56 men were killed; and on December 19, at the Darr mine, 230 men were killed. In this black month of December alone, says Mr. Rice, 648 men were sacrificed, chiefly from the effects of coal dust, which if not the initial cause, in all cases was the agency of carrying death.

It was after these explosions that the Federal government took up an inquiry into the causes of the disasters and established the testing station at Pittsburg. The very first work was to prove to the mine operators and miners that coal dust alone would explode. The dust was placed in a cylinder 100 feet long and six feet in diameter, with a cannon imbedded in one end. This cannon was filled with black powder and discharged by electricity into the coal dust. In practically every instance there was a terrific explosion, even more violent than that caused by firedamp. Each succeeding experiment went further to prove that coal dust is the real great danger of the mines. Firedamp, according to Mr. Rice, carries its own warning. Whenever gas is present in a mine in dangerous quantities, a blue flame rises from the safety lamp to notify the miner, but coal dust, though visible, does not attract attention unless present in large quantities. Firedamp is generally found in certain parts of the mine, and except in notable and very exceptional cases is controllable by means of the ventilating currents. If by mischance a body of firedamp is ignited in a mine, the force of the explosion is terrific, but the effect is localized unless dry coal dust is present, or unless (as rarely happens) an explosible mixture of air and gas extends through large areas of the mine. In a mine that is dry, dust accumulates everywhere, and the blast from the ignition and combustion of the bituminous dust may traverse miles of rooms and entries and even wreck structures at the entrance of the mine.

One of the unaccountable phases of the coal dust problem has been the disclination of the operators and miners to believe that the dust would explode without the presence of gas. The United States was not alone in this, for the French engineers, refused to believe in this until the great disaster occurred at Courrieres in 1906, in which 1,000 men lost their lives. Since that terrible catastrophe, a testing station has been established in France, and now the French engineers are fully convinced of the dangers of coal dust.

Now since it is generally accepted that bituminous coal dust is explosive, the Federal investigators have been looking for the remedy. Various experiments, in sprinkling the roadways of the mines, in saturating the air entering the mine with steam so as to produce a humid effect, in placing zones of stone dust in the mines, have all been tried with various success. A number of these experiments are described by Mr. Rice in the bulletin. Interesting chapters on different phases of the work have been contributed by such well known men as J. C. W. Frazer, Axel Larsen, Frank Haas and Carl Scholz. The Bulletin, which is No. 425, can be had by addressing the Director of the Bureau of Mines, Washington, D. C.

SYSTEMATIC TOWN BUILDING

How Memphis, Tenn., is Making 'Em Sit Up and Take Notice—Booster Club Along Progressive Lines.

Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 10.—"Bring the World to Memphis" is the slogan of a most remarkable movement in a remarkable progressive Southern city.

With this slogan every man, woman and child in Memphis has become a walking advertisement of his city.

Thousands of them, scattering in every direction for their vacations, have made the world resonant with this municipal battle cry this Summer. Commercial travelers carry the magic phrase inscribed on their grips wherever they go, and spread it on the hotel registers in every part of the Nation. And these aggressive patriots know whereof they speak.

They have the "dope" about Memphis at their tongue's end, and their finger ends. For instance, on the eve of the departure of one of the great excursions from Memphis, a few days ago, the daily papers contained an article enumerating the chief advantages of the city, and asked everybody to clip the data and take it with them so they could answer questions about their city intelliegntly. This is only one of the many schemes devised for educating the people of Memphis as to their own resources.

The movement is no mere spasmodic unheaval of public spirit; it is thoroughly and systematically organized, and intelligently and persistently carried on. Back of it is the bureau of publicity and development of the Business Men's Club. Memphis is the heart of the South and her Business Men's Club is the heart of Memphis. Fifteen hundred resident and 300 non-resident members, every one a "live wire and top notcher," are a wonderful dynamic force in the community. The club owns its own building in the heart of the city, six stories high, thoroughly appointed throughout for the social and business activities of the city. They do large things, and they do them systematically, promptly and effectively.

The bureau of publicity and development has raised a fund of $50,000 for advertising the city and building it up along commercial and industrial lines. The chief part of the fund will be spent in newspapers and magazines during the Fall and Winter. The manner in which the bureau was organized, and its methods of raising the fund, and for the expenditure of the money, have attracted wide attention. It is generally acknowledged to be the best plan yet evolved for municipal advertising. Nearly every progressive city in the country is trying to advertise itself in some such way, and nearly all of them are now taking Memphis as a model of the most advanced ideas and methods in municipal publicity.

The spirit of co-operation and enterprise thus aroused has electrified the life of the city at every point. The "Memphis spirit" is becoming proverbial. How widespread this spirit of co-operation has become, is indicated by the fact that there are nearly eleven hundred individual subscribers to the $50,000 fund, besides the contributions of organizations. The newspapers have vied with each other in every movement for making the campaign effective. The effect of this "get together" idea has not only borne good results in attracting attention abroad, but its benefits are manifest in many ways at home. It has made co-operation in business, social and civic affairs much easier in every line, it has inspired the spirit of enterprise which will bring great benefits, even if no new men and money were brought in as the result of the campaign.

The movement will go on from year to year. The men back of it know that publicity of this kind is cumulative in its results and that, to get the best out of it, it is necessary to go on from year to year. With the great permanent organization behind it, there is no doubt but it will continue with increasing force for years to come.

OAK RIDGE OPENING.

Large Enrollment This Year—The School Magazine—Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Oak Ridge, N. C., Sept. 10.—The opening of Oak Ridge Institute this year is the finest for years, over 100 new students having registered the first day.

The Oak Leaf, which was not issued any at all last year, except for the commencement number, will be published probably in magazine form this year. The literary societies have taken it in hand, and will make it an up-to-date school journal. It will be printed on the brand new Oak Ridge press, with new type, in the well fitted and entirely new newspaper job office, to be known as the Oak Ridge Press.

Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Holt, of Washington city, spent last week here. They had come to place their two boys in school, and to pay a visit to relatives. Mr. R. O. Holt, who graduated at the University of North Carolina, in the class with Dr. McIver, Hon. J. Y. Joyner, Hon. C. H. Thomas, was formerly a professor here, and later, for 18 years, was in the Navy Department at Washington.

The churches here, recently conducted very successful revivals, and many new members were added.

THE FABLE OF THE LONG BALLOT.

Once upon a time a Plain Citizen went to the polls to vote. The ballot contained the names of a hundred candidates for a score of offices. "Th at ballot is not for me," said the Plain Citizen. "That ballot is for experts only. I'm as good as disfranchised by it!

"You ought to go into politics and become an expert yourself," said the Politician.

"I can't. Economic pressure keeps me hard at work to support my family. That's my first duty."

"Lucky for me!" murmured the Politician.

Why is politics so complex? Why are there so many picayune elective offices?" persisted the citizen.

"So that you will always need me," the Politician replied, as the Citizen, without even reading the names of the candidates, helplessly voted a straight ticket.

MORAL—The longer the ballot, the less the Plain Citizen counts in politics. The "Short Ballot" used in Des Moines, Galveston, and abroad, is the right remedy. A "Short Ballot" carries only a few conspicuous offices and the citizens hold easy and effecti ve direct control over their government.—The Short Ballot Organization.

WONDERS ACCOMPLISHED.

General Effect of Sanitary Progress on Tropical Civilization.

In a recent work entitled "Mosquito or Man," Sir Boyce, in the preface, says: "Finally, if results are looked for, it can be said without exaggeration that the tropical world is today being steadily and surely conquered. The narration of the numerous campaigns against the mosquito which I have here recorded is signal proof of this. The campaigns show that the three great insect-carried scourges of the tropics—the greatest enemies that mankind has ever had to contend with, namely, malaria, yellow fever, and sleeping sickness—are now fully in hand and giving way, and with their conquest disappears the awful and grinding depression which seems to have gripped our forefathers. Now the situation is full of hope. The mosquito is no longer a nightmare; it can be got rid of. The tropical world is unfolding once again to the pioneers of commerce, who now do not dread the unseen hand of death as did of old the Spanish Conquistadores of Columbus and Cortes. The British public has and must always have a paramount interest in this practical conquest, which is destined to add a vast slice of the globe of undreamt-of productiveness, to their dominions and activities."

Why has the strong Northern blood which nature attempts constantly to pour into tropical lands failed to gain a foothold? Why have the tropics not been civilized? Why has the most fertile section of the globe remained uncultivated? Does the Northerner forsake the tropic on account of heat or sickness.

Gargas in the Canal Zone has demonstrated that the American can live in the tropics with as much safety and do as much work as he can in the United States. It was not heat, but death, that drove the French from this region twenty years ago—death from malaria and yellow fever that buried 50,000 of their laborers before they forsook the tropics. The gate to tropical civilization has been locked for centuries by the mosquito and the fly that carries sleeping sickness.

Evidence is accumulating that suggests, and goes a long way toward proving for some, that the fall of Greece was due principally to tropical diseases imported through their soldiers returning with prisoners, both infected with malaria and other tropical diseases. Much more could be said along this line but for space limitation.—Weekly Bulletin of State Board of Health.

FARMERS' PLATFORM.

Resolutions Asking for Laws to Prohibit Gambling in Products.

Charlotte, N. C., Sept. 8.—After a three days' meeting here the National Farmers Union closed tonight and delegates, representing practically every State in the Union, will return to their homes.

All the meetings since Wednesday afternoon have been executive. Officers for both the national and State unions will be elected at the meeting tonight.

At an executive session last night the legislative committee of the national union presented some highly important resolutions that were passed by the union.

Hereafter the law-making bodies of both State and nation will be visited by a legislative committee from the union who will see that the demands of the farmers are carried out, and if not, why not."

Some of the subjects to which the committee on legislation is declared are:

"A law to prevent gambling in agricultural products by boards of trade and cotton exchanges.

"A law providing for the establishment of a parcels post.

"A law against the establishment of central government banks 'through which the money of the country may be withdrawn from circulation, and the volume of available money contracted.'

"A law to restrict foreign immigration.

"A law gradually reducing the tariff to a revenue basis.

"Physical valuation of railroads, telegraph and telephone is absolutely necessary to just and wise control."

BLEWETT'S ON THE GO.

Sale Has Been Decided Upon.—The Date and Upset.

(Rockingham Post.)

And a sale it will be. Blewett's Falls is the thing. Wednesday, the 5th day of October, 1910, at 12 o'clock m., is the time. Either Rockingham or Wadesboro will be the place. Full detailed notices will be issued by the reorganization committe during this week.

The upset price will be $1,000,000 The plant cost over twice this amount.

Thus endeth a stormy story in the financial marts and courts of the country. First peace, then war; then sweet peace again, but no completion.

Now comes the sale. The bidder will have to pay a round million, as this is the upset price.

The Post wants it sold; the bidder to "step lively" and finish the marmoth enterprise.

POLICE COMMISSIONER HELD.

Charged With Preventing Police From Make Certain Arrests.

Richmond, Va., Sept. 9.—Police Commissioner Manning was arrested today on a warrant swor nout by A. A. Yoder, publisher of a weekly pamphlet here, which charges that the commissioner prevented the chief of police from arresting and bringing to justice the occupants of certain houses known to the chief of police by alleged evidence in his office to be violating the law. He was immediately released on bail.

Yoder was some time ago convicted of criminal libel in a case resulting from charges made by Commissioners Manning and Gordon.

ANCIENT BASEBALL CUSTOMS

Pop Anson Theorizs While Engaged in the Game of Billiads—Home Team Last to Bat.

It takes a long time to get old and conservative ideas out of the heads of ball players, says the New York Evening Post. Even the most progressive club owners are the most firmly rooted in some of their antiquated theories, and they do not wake up to the march of time until some other fellow "starts something."

Anson, who certainly lasted longer in a managerial berth than any one before or since his day, thus theorized recently between shots of a billiard game:

"One of the oldest of the theories, and one that stuck the longest, was this: that it was best for the home team, having the choice of innings, to take first bat. That idea lasted for twenty years or more. It lasted firmly rooted till some fellow woke up and now the habit of taking last bat is as solidly established as if it were so much baseball law. When the gong rings for the battle now, you invariably see the home team streaking for the field, while the visitors turn to the pile of bats, exactly as if the laws of the game compelled such doings. Do you ever see the captain of one team hesitate, pause as he passes the other captain, and engage him in debate as to whether he wants outs or ins?

"And yet, under baseball law, he could do so, and the home captain has the say. For twenty seasons, however, it has become the immutable custom for the home team to take the field, and no visiting captain would even think of asking about it. Should a visiting leader, on his way to the bats, be stopped by the home captain with a shout of, 'You fellows take the field—we are going to bat first,' he would probably be surprised, to put it mildly.

"Taking the last innings, so as to have the advantage of the chance for a final rally, is the understood custom. And yet, for many seasons, it was the other way. The home team always took first bat, and simply for an utterly absurd survival of the traditions that surrounded backlots ball.

When our daddies played on the vacant lots, and had only one ball to pound around—as was the case in the village or town lot games—the first crack at the new ball was considered the greatest thing imaginable. It was figured as a vast advantage, because several runs could be whaled off the shining leather, and by the time the other team got to work the sphere would be black and hard to hit. When the game grew into professional proportions, and enclosed arenas, this idea still stuck. For years and years the home club took first bat as a matter of course, and not one of the mossbacks ever seemed to figure it out that, where the ball was continually going over the fence, it made little or no difference who had first crack at the first globule. New balls, of course, were always coming into play, and the second team at bat would get just as many of them as the first team. Therefore, the momentary advantage of the whack at the first ball could in no way compensate for the advantage of last innings. And yet, year after year, home teams took first bat, and they kept up the custom till within the memory of men now in the game. Yes, I was a mossback, too. I always took first bat when we played on the lake front, and for several years at the Congress street grounds, as well.

"One day somebody woke up. And from that time on the home team has always taken last bat, and, I think, always will."

CONTEST No. 1.

For Young Women, Married or Single.

There will be twenty eight prizes offered to the young women who enter this contest, and the distribution will be made according to the ones receiving the highest numbers of votes at the close of the contest.

The city of Wilmington has been divided into two districts, and the remaining territory into four districts making six districts for the young women to enter and compete for the prizes.

There will be four Grand Prizes, consisting of $500 in cash; a Handsome Upright Piano; Two trips to Cuba, with expenses, for winner and her companion; also a Pony, Harness and Buggy.

These four prizes will be awarded the four young women who receive the highest numbers of votes of any in the entire contest at the close.

After the four Capital Prizes have been awarded there will be four prizes awarded each district making an even distribution of the twenty-four district prizes.

For each district there will be four prizes consisting of a Handsome Diamond Ring; a Turkish Rocker, a beautiful Gold Watch, and a Bank Account amounting to $25.00.

This will make twenty-eight winners in the young women's contest, and the young women to receive these prizes will be determined by the popular vote of the readers of the Morning Star.

DIVISION OF DISTRICTS.

First District—Counties of Wilson, Edgecombe, Wake, Mecklenburg, in North Carolina. All other counties in North and South Carolina not mentioned in the following districts.

Second District—Counties of Robeson, Scotland, Richmond, Moore, Lee, and Anson, in North Carolina; Marion and Marlborough Counties in South Carolina.

Third District—Counties of Brunswick, Columbus, Bladen, Sampson, Cumberland, Harnett and Johnston, North Carolina; Horry and Florence Counties, South Carolina.

Fourth District—New Hanover County, outside of Wilmington; also Pender, Onslow, Duplin, Jones, Craven, Carteret, Lenoir and Wayne Counties.

HIGHWAY ECHOES.

Notes From Laurinburg Exchange on Meeting Last Week.

(Laurinburg Exchange.)

The Charlotte-to-Wilmington Highway will be built without undue delay!

That Laurinburg needs better hotel facilities can never be more emphatically illustrated.

The speech by Lieut. A. L. James, Jr., was one of the best and most interesting made at the meeting.

The Charlotte-to-Wilmington Highway Association was organized permanently with a number of working committees appointed and the movement is progressing most satisfactorily.

Messrs. M. L. John, W. D. McRae, C. E. Patrick and Roland Covington, composing the committee on arrangements, merit the thanks of the town for the thorough manner in which they met every detail of their duties.

It is very gratifying to think of having so many distinguished citizens as our guests, but really it is rather stinging to reflect on the fact that at least a few of them were forced to make their dinner on canned meats and crackers.

Editor Dockery must have been the proudest man in North Carolina to preside over the convention which put the seal of assurance of the successful termination of the project to which his fertile brain gave birth only a few weeks ago.

The delegates here Friday represented the best citizenship of the various counties. The convention was composed of men who do things. They are the men who say yes or no in matters concerning the public welfare in their respective counties.

The rains alone prevented the visitors from looking over the finest county between the mountains and the sea. The automobiles were in waiting, thanks to Mr. Jasper T. Gibson and Dr. W. D. James and the co-operation of the automobile owners all over the county.

One of the disappointments of the meeting was the fact that the time limit fixed by the chairman prevented Mr. George Currie, of Bladen, from delivering that speech which he had prepared with so much care for the occasion beginning on "The Appian Way."

Mr. H. W. Malloy, among the very strongest men this community has given to the world, and who is claimed by Wilmington and by Brunswick and Scotland counties, and who represents the interests of all three, did much toward making the meeting a success. His remarks were always timely, to the point and backed by a large fund of valuable information.

"We are going to build the highway and do it now," are the words of illustrate the enthusiasm of the assembly; the messages from the various counties delivered through their representative citizens, men of business and affairs, giving absolute and positive assurance that they are ready and willing to build, illustrate the object of the meeting and the prospect for its successful achievement.

FACTS ABOUT THE SOUTH.

Figures That Are Worth While Pondering.—Remarkable Growth.

"Go South, young man," says Hon. James Wilson, the honored and perpetual Secretary of Agriculture, and no man knows better than this canny Scot where lie the best opportunities for thrift and fortune in these United States. Since the days of Horace Greeley, the South has become the land of golden opportunity instead of the West.

A few figures illustrating her growth since 1880 to prove this assertion:

Her population since that time has grown from 16,000,000 to 27,000,000.

Her property valuation from $7,500,000,000 to $21,200,000,000.

Capital in manufacturing from $257,000,000 to $2,100,000,000.

Value of farm products from $660,000,000 to $2,500,000,000, equal to an advance of 286 per cent.

In 1880 the city of Memphis had 33,000 people; in 1890, 66,000 in 1900, 102,000; in 1910, it is confidently believed that Memphis and her suburbs approximate 200,000; and while Memphis has grown more rapidly than any other city in the South during this period, perhaps, other towns and cities have also made a phenomenal advance.

It was generally thought that the war had ruined the South for all time, but the wealth of this section alone is greater today by nearly $6,000,000,000 than the wealth of the entire United States in 1860.

The South today produces more coal and petroleum than was produced in the whole United States in 1880.

Last year's cotton crop and its by-products amounted to about $1,000,000,000, or more than twice as much as the output of all the gold of the world for the same time.

The South has 62,000 square miles of coal land, whereas Great Britain, Germany, France and Austria have only 17,000 square miles.

The South has more iron ore than all Europe combined.

The South has more phosphate rock than anywhere else in the world, and all the nations must look to this section for this chief element of soil food for the ages to come.

The South has more than 40 per cent of all the standing forests in the Unitd States.

CARTOONIST-ORCHARDIST.

R. F. Outcault Interested in Big Project in Washington State.

Spokane, Wash., Sept. 10.—Samuel Berry of Spokane, who is associated with R. F. Outcault, cartoonist, and Charles W. Crewdson, author, in an irrigation project near Bridgeport, Wash., where 70,000 one and two-year old apple trees have been planted on 1,000 acres of land during the last 12 months has added 1,000 acres to his holdings there, making it the largest single orchard in the Pacific Northwest. Planting on this new acreage will begin the coming fall, and it is expected to give employment to 60 men throughout the year. The irrigation system employed to water the land includes seven miles of flumes and more than 20 miles of laterals. The pumping plant, taking water from the Columbia river, has a capacity of 6,500 gallons a minute, two-thirds of which is required to supply moisture to all the lands during the growing season. The first orchard of 1,000 acres will come into bearing in 1915.

MR. BELLAMY'S POSITION.

Explains His Rulings at Famous Wrightsville Beach Convention.

Editor Morning Star, Wilmington, N. C.

Dear Sir:—In glancing over the report of what is politically known as the "Harmony Committee" and signed by ex-Governor T. J. Jarvis, C. B. Aycock and Hon. A. C. Avery, with reference to the Sixth district Congressional Convention at Wrightsville, I am made to say that in my rulings as chairman of the regular convention that Cumberland and New Hanover counties were not represented in that convention, or in other words that I "sustained the objection raised by a delegate from Harnett that these two counties were not representd in the convention." While I disclaim any disposition or inclination to precipitate a newspaper controversy over this question at this late day, yet I am nevertheless unwilling that words be put in my mouth by anyone or motives ascribed to me that I never entertained, or rulings in that famous convention that I never made.

Now to make a long story short and to keep history straight, I want to say that my ruling in that convention was this: That Cumberland and New Hanover counties having failed to elect delegates to the Congressional Cnvention according to either one of the three plans laid down and prescribed by the Democratic plan of organization, and a protest having been registered by a regularly elected delegate against any further participation in the proceeding of the convention until the committee on credentials had been named and passed upon as to who were the delegates entitled to vote from these two counties, having been irregularly appointed and not in accordance with the Democratic plan of organization, and a protest having been made against the vote of these two counties in the convention until their status had been determined by the proper tribunal. I ruled that these counties should not further participate in the convention proceedings until the committee on credentials had been appointed, and that these counties were, therefore, not entitled to further participation in the m eting or representation on the committee on credentials for the reason that it would stand without a precedent for a juror or witness to sit in judgment upon their own case.

In a word, my ruling was that the committee on credentials should determine the matter as to who the delegates were from these two counties entitled to vote and those not entitled to vote. When the appeal was made from the ruling of the chair on this question by a New Hanover delegate I did refuse to put the motion until a full and free discussion could be had on dpending the discussion Mr. R. B. Branch, a McKinnon delegate, made a motion for a recess of two hours, which motion was agreed to.

I merely make this statement because it was my ruling that some people are trying to use as a pretext for the unfortunate situation that has developed in the Sixth district and who are disposed to lay the blame for all this trouble at my doors. For all that I am responsible I stand ready to bear, regardless of consequences, but I am not willing to be charged with all the sins of the Wrightsville conventions when others than myself are more to blame and who might have averted such an untimely result had they displayed more willingness and disposition to have yielded respect and more ready obedience to the expressed will of the people as shown by their votes and expression in the primaries. Let the responsibility for this condition of affairs be placed where it belongs—upon the Cumberland and New Hanover county conventions and those who controlled them.

Although I had my individual choice of the candidates before the convention, just the same as other people, yet in my ruling a stemporary chairman I was governed by a sense of fairness and impartiality that would have precluded the possibility of my ruling in favor of or against friend or foe. Were I called upon I would rule the same way tomorrow.

GEO. H. BELLAMY,
Chairman Democratic Executive Committee, Sixt hCongressional District.

LUMBERTON MAN'S PATENTS.

Vacuum Cleaner and Attachment for Picture Machine.

(Special to Charlotte Observer.)

Lumberton, Sept. 7.—Mr. Winfred W. Whaley, of this place, has two patents pending at this time that are confidently expected to make him a fortune. One of these is a new style vacuum cleaner, which does the work of the most expensive ones and can be manufactured and put on the market at about one-fifth of the price at which the ordinary one sells for at present.

Mr. Whaley's other patent and the one he expects to realize the most from, is the attachment for a motion picture machine whereby the operator of a machine can put anything he desires on the screen without the use of film or slides. Models of both this patent and the former have been demonstrated with the greatest of success.

WHAT CONSTITUTES NEGRO?

One Sixteenth Blood, Says District of Columbia Supreme Court.

Washington, Sept. 8.—Just what constitutes a negro in the United States may be a question which the United States Supreme Court will be asked to settle in the near future.

One-sixteenth negro blood in an individual classifies him as a negro in the District of Columbia, according to a decision by Justice Daniel T. Wright of the District Supreme Court, in the case of Isabel I. Wall, an eight-year-old child who recently was barred from a white public school because the principal had been informed that she was of negro parentage.

The father of the girl attempted to force the board of education to reinstate the child, but failed, Justice Wright deciding she was a negro. The case was appealed.

WHITE SLAVE TRAFFIC.

Christian Citizenship Conference at Philadelphia in November.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 10.—With delegates numbering 3,000, representing every section on the globe, the World's Christian Citizenship Conference, sitting in this city in November, will do something about the White Slave Traffic. The Congress of the United States has considered the subject. Other governments have talked about it, but none has done anything.

A preliminary report submitted to The National Reform Association (Rev. J. S. Martin, general superintendent, No. 209 Ninth street, Pittsburg, Pa.), by Rev. Dr. H. H. George, Beaverly Falls, Pa., and Rev. E. S. Littell, Zelinople, Pa., mentions a cemetery on the outskirts of a large city where no less than 561 white slaves rest in unmarked graves.

Specific and appalling information on the subject submitted by Mary Weston Humes is summarized as follows:

The movement against this evil are forming and intensifying fast as the enormities of it come into the light. The National Vigilance Committee for the suppression of this traffic, having its headquarters in Baltimore, of which Dr. Janney is chairman, is combining all its forces against it.

The W. C. T. U. at its national convention in Omaha, says: "We will use our utmost influence to secure laws for the suppression of the so-called white-slave traffic and we will continue our efforts to secure an amendment to the United States Constitution forever prohibiting polygamy.

The Congress of the United States has taken it up, and a number of bills were presented at the first of its present session pertaining to the evil. But especially one by Representative Mann, of Illinois, is a most drastic measure to put an end to the traffic in women. This bill makes it a crime for persons to induce, aid, entice or force any woman or girl from one State to another for immoral purposes, to aid or induce any woman or girl to go from one State to another with the intention of compelling her, with or without her consent, to practice immorality. The proposed penalty is a fine not exceeding $5,000 or imprisonment not to exceed five years, or in the case of a woman under 18 years the penalty is $10,000 and ten years' imprisonment. The bill also seeks to carry out the arrangement with foreign nations known as the "White Slave Traffic Arrangement." This bill has already passed the House by a large majority, and it has every prospect of a like majority in the Senate.

In view of the above facts and many similar that might be mentioned, your committee would submit the following recommendations:

1. That this association puts itself on record as heartily favoring every rightful movement against the white slave traffic, and will hold ourselves in readiness to co-operate with such movements wherever practicable.

2. That by petitions, letters, telegrams, etc., it will encourage National, State and municipal legislation against the evil.

3. That it will press an amendment to the National Constitution abolishing polygamy and forever prohibiting it from the country.

4. That it will continue to seek an amendment to the United States Constitution for a uniform divorce law in accordance with the law of Christ.

DR. PRATT IN NEW YORK.

To Consult Officials About the Mountain Highway Proposed.

(Charlotte News, 7th.)

Dr. Joseph Hyde Pratt, state geologis of North Carolina, who spent several days at the Selwyn, left yesterday morning for New York. It was expected by the local Farmers' Union that Dr. Pratt would be present at the convention and talk to the convention about good roads—the subject so near to his heart.

He was due in New York, however, to meet railroad officials in regard to the projected road over the Blue ridge. He will put before these officials the advantages and possibilities of this road. The officials are connected with the roads which penetrate the mountains of western North Carolina. They are parties of the first part, as it were, in the development of the mountains, and will hear Dr. Pratt on this new proposition with interest. This highway proposed will make mountain travel not only easy, but delightful, as it is intended as an automobile route. For the maintenance of the road, a toll system may be established.

When the turnpike was built from Wilmington to the sound, the toll gate was a picturesque and paying feature.

CHOSEN FOR FOREIGN EVENT.

Yacht Beaver Will Take Part in German-American Races.

Marion, Mass., Sept. 9.—One of the three boats which will represent America in he German-American sonder yach races a Kiel next June, was selected today by the committee which had charge of the elimination trials in Buzzard's Bay. The yacht is the Beaver, owned by George Dabney, which was one of the contestants in the recent Spanish-American sonder yacht races off Marblehead.

Three boats are to be sent to Germany, and the committee expects to announce tomorrow their choice of two boats from those which sailed the final race today. These boats are the Cima, owned by Guy Lowell; the Bibelot, owned by Harry Payne Whitney; the Seacoon, owned by J. L. Stackpole, and the Helen, owned by Dwight F. Davis.

FREE TO YOU—MY SISTER

Free to You and Every Sister Suffering from Woman's Ailments.

I am a woman.
I know woman's sufferings.
I have found the cure.

I will mail, free of any charge, my home treatment with full instructions to any sufferer from woman's ailments. I want to tell all women about this cure—you, my reader, for yourself, your daughter, your mother, or your sister. I want to tell you how to cure yourselves at home without the help of a doctor. Men cannot understand women's sufferings. What we women know from experience, we know better than any doctor. I know that my home treatment is safe and sure cure for Leucorrhoea or Whitish discharges, Ulceration, Displacement or Falling of the Womb, Profuse, Scanty or Painful Periods, Uterine or Ovarian Tumors, or Growths; also pains in head, back and bowels, bearing down feelings, nervousness, creeping feeling up the spine, melancholy, desire to cry, hot flashes, weariness, kidney, and bladder troubles where caused by weaknesses peculiar to our sex.

I want to send you a complete ten day's treatment entirely free to prove to you that you can cure yourself at home, easily, quickly and surely. Remember, that, it will cost you nothing to give the treatment a complete trial; and if you wish to continue, it will cost you only about 12 cents a week or less than two cents a day. It will not interfere with your work or occupation. Just send me your name and address, tell me how you suffer if you wish, and I will send you the treatment for your case, entirely free, in plain wrapper, by return mail. I will also send you free of cost, my book—"WOMAN'S OWN MEDICAL ADVISER" with explanatory illustrations showing why women suffer, and how they can easily cure themselves at home. Every woman should have it, and learn to think for herself. Then when the doctor says—"You must have an operation," you can decide for yourself. Thousands of women have cured themselves with my home remedy. It cures all old or young. To Mothers of Daughters, I will explain a simple home treatment which speedily and effectually cures Leucorrhoea, Green Sickness and Painful or Irregular Menstruation in young Ladies, Plumpness and health always results from its use.

Wherever you live, I can refer you to ladies of your own locality who know and will gladly tell any sufferer that this Home Treatment really cures all women's diseases, and makes women well, strong, plump and robust. Just send me your address, and the free ten day's treatment is yours, also the book. Write to-day, as you may not see this offer again. Address

S. S. S. THE BEST SPRING TONIC

Most persons, even those who are ordinarily strong and healthy, need a tonic and blood purifier in the Spring. Some have no particular ailment, but are weak, debilitated and run-down. Winter life with its decreased amount of outdoor exercise, and the fact that cold weather has kept the pores of the skin closed, prevented the proper amount of waste and refuse matter from being expelled from the system. These impurities entering the circulation have thinned and weakened the blood, and the body therefore does not receive a sufficient amount of blood nourishment. The general bodily weakness, tired feeling, fickle appetite, poor digestion, etc., show how anaemic the blood has become. Frequently skin diseases, pimples, eruptions, etc., break out and this is evidence of the impurity of the circulation. S. S. S. is the best Spring tonic, because it is the greatest of all blood purifiers. It is the only medicine on which you can rely to supply the system with the needed tonic effects and at the same time purify and enrich your blood. The use of S. S. S. at this time may save you from a long spell of sickness, and it will certainly prepare you for the strain of the long, hot Summer. S. S. S. is made entirely from roots, herbs and barks; it is Nature's tonic, pure and healthful. It regulates digestion, tones up the stomach, improves the appetite and promotes strong, vigorous health. This will be your best Spring season if you use S. S. S. for your tonic.

Is Drinking Your Stumbling Block?

YOU can't hold your job if you drink liquor to excess. You know it and so do I. Let's pass over all the other phases of the drinking question and look at the matter from a cold dollars and cents standpoint. Just the same as any other business question.

If your health was badly impaired and you could be restored again to perfect vigor and strength for a few hundred dollars you would gladly spend the money, wouldn't you? You would consider it a good investment.

Now that's just the situation in taking the Keeley cure. The drinking habit is impairing your health and your earning power, until even your job is uncertain.

You say you could stop drinking if you wanted to. Perhaps you could. But then you don't. So the same endless loss goes on

We can stop this loss of earning power for you and stop it now. In just a few weeks we can give you new health, new energy and new ambition, and put you again on the high road to greater business success. It's a business opportunity that will pay you many thousand per cent. on the investment. As a cold business proposition—isn't it worth looking into?

THE IDEAL KISS ?

This Student of Osculation tells all about it.

"The English kiss is chilly."

"The Scottish kiss is sincere."

"The kiss of the Italian woman is easily given, intense, but not backed by love."

"The Spanish woman has the most passionate kiss in the world."

"The French kiss is experienced—and mercenary."

"The kiss of the American girl is sweet, but it often lacks temperamental backing."

Do You Know How To Kiss.

Is it a gentle smack or an epoch of the fundamental ages? Is it a salute or an enveloping delirium?

If you haven't got out of a kiss all there is in it, there's a man coming to town tomorrow, with the musical entertainment, "The Soul Kiss," that can tell you the reason why.

He has made a study of it, an exhaustive and systematic study, and he can tell you just how the kisses of the nations vary.

Mr. Harlan Fox, the man who is searching for "The Soul Kiss," gives six different kinds of kisses in his play of the name.

"But there are more than six kinds," says Mr. Fox. "There are as many different kinds of kisses as there are different kinds of people, plus different emotions, in the world.

"The six used in the play are fairly general types. The first is the Carmen kiss, the kiss of passion. It is of the body, not the soul.

"The second is the Marguerite kiss, the kiss of the stage, meaningless, although it looks well.

"The third is the most intense of all, the Cleopatra kiss, the kiss of the Oriental type. There is no word to describe it, nothing to be said in disparagement of it. It is the kiss that cost Antony an empire, the kiss that men gladly lose everything for—and yet, they lose.

The fourth is the French dancing girl's kiss. It is pleasant, but mercenary. The woman gives her lips and nods an invitation at you."

"The fifth is the Gibson type kiss. It is picturesque, but chilly."

"Last is the formal kiss, when the type of his ideal extends her hand."

"I have traveled in Europe, looking for new types of kisses. This last Summer I travelled through Europe, Scotland, Italy, Spain and France. The kisses of the various countries vary, as much as anything could be imagined.

"The kiss of the English girl is the Gibson type; they are chilly."

"The kiss of the Scotch girl is sincere. It is not emotional, but it comes from the heart, and cannot be bought."

"The kiss of the Italian woman is easily given. It is fervent, but not backed by love. The flower girls on the street press bontonnatires upon you and you can have a kiss for the taking.

"The Spanish woman has the most passionate kiss in the world . It is hard to get, but when she does kiss she abandons herself to it."

"The kisses of the French women are easily gotten. They are pleasant, very pleasant, but they are mercenary, and they are the kiss of xperience."

"The kiss of the American girl is sweet, but it often lacks the backing of temperament."

"The ideal kiss is not given with the lips alone; it is given with every atom of the whole body and that intangible something called the heart and soul."

"Every position is a different mood, a mood of reaching desire, a mood of utter abandon, a mood of acquiescence, a spirit of calculating barter.

To those who study and know the position, the expressions of the body as well as the expressions of the face, all mean something, and he who runs may read.

"There is as much character or lack of character expressed in a kiss, as in anything in the world."

"All the kisses on the stage are real kisses," he explained. "I don't see how one could portray the temptation unless one had been moved."

To an interviewer it seemed somewhat of a farce.

To Mr. Harlan Fox it seemed inexplicable that he should have been surprised.

"Just realism," he explained, innocently, "just realism."

"But doesn't it make you embarrassed to kiss all these women hat way, every evening?" queried the newspaper man.

"Why embarrassed?" he answered. "I was playing a part. The devil tried to tempt me with the kisses of these women. How could I be tempted with a stage kiss?"

And that was unanswerable.

"Do you know," he added, "the ideal kiss is pretty well described in the play—the kiss that rises from the heart to the lips, the soul kiss.'"

"It is what everyone looks for and very few of us find."

A massive production of "The Soul Kiss" will be made at the Academy of Music, in this city, tomorrow night, and seats are now on sale at Plummer's.

Two Other Big Attractions.

The present week at the Academy will not be marked alone, however, by the presentation of "The Soul Kiss" tomorrow night, as two other splendid attractions will visit Wilmington this week. "Beulah" comes Friday night, and Saturday "The Gentleman From Mississippi" will return. The latter attraction will appear at matinee and night and the presentation will be made by about the same strong company that appeared in this city last season. The production will be brilliantly made, as the company carries a carload of scenery and effects.

In spite of the thousands of books written since their first appearance, the works of Augusta J. Evans are still favorites with the lovers of fiction, and the dramatization of "St. Elmo", which was produced last season, was more successful than any other dramatization of a modern novel. This year Miss Alice E. Ives, who is known to the theatre-going public through her plays "The Village Postmaster," and "The Brooklyn Handicap," has done into dramatic form the characters of "Beulah", the book which first established Miss Evans as a successful American author.

INTERNATIONAL CORN SHOW.

Such is Proposed at Madison Square Garden in 1912.

Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 10.—Madison Square Garden for the next, or the 1912 National Corn Exposition.

To make it an international, instead of a National Exposition, and to interest, to the extent of exhibiting, every country on the globe.

Since the coming fourth annual National Corn Exposition to be held in the group of seven massive exhibit halls at the Ohio Sate Exposition grounds has grown to such proportions that every nook and corner in the several buildings will be filled, it has been suggested by a number of leading agriculturists and prominent government officials that the next show be made international, and that it be held in the famous Madison Square Garden in New York City.

No action will be taken on the proposition by the National Corn Association until well after the business of the coming big corn show is settled, although much pressure is being brought to bear for an early decision, owing to the interest that is being taken by the United States government and the departments of agriculture of other countries.

While it is estimated that the Madison Square Garden, as a location for the show proper would be little, if any better than the excellent exhibit halls on the Ohio State exposition ground at Columbus, Ohio, the fact that it would be held in such a convenient location and in such a popular place of amusement, would be an inducement, which, it is claimed by those interested, would bring exhibits and delegations from every country, and the exposition would be the greatest wold-venture in the interest of the betterment of agriculture.

"The National Agricultural Exposition" is the new name proposed for the National Corn Exposition, owing to the fact that the intents and purposes of the event have so far outgrown the original purposes of the National Corn Association. When the first show was held in Chicago in 1907, only corn was shown. At the next two annual shows which were held in Omaha, it was found necessary to enlarge the scope by adding classification for all grains and grasses. Interest has become so great, because of the extension and broadening out, that not alone all States, but the government departments of agriculture have become so directly interested and benefitted that the proposed change of name, in all probability, must come within the immediate future and before the 1912 exposition is held.

Already the plans for the fourth annual show, which opens in Columbus, Ohio, January 30th, to continue through February 11th, have reached such proportions as to insure the greatest, by far, of any National Agricultural exposition that has ever been held, and the present indications are that all exhibitors now clamoring for space cannot be accommodated.

Regardless of the fact that already more than 30 States arranged for exhibits from their respective agricultural colleges and experiment stations, with the best of their products representing each State, there will be at least several more States to enter, correspondence from the additional States being of the most favorable tone, and each State college expressing the deepest interest.

HOOKWORM DISEASE.

North Carolina Leaders in Public Education at Chapel Hill.

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 10.—At Chapel Hill last week the Superintendents of Public Schools for the various counties of the State met in regular annual session. Nearly every county was represented. Dr. F. P. Venable, president of the University, welcomed the body of educators and spoke briefly of the responsibility and importance of each County Superintendent of Schools.

The meeting then proceeded with the programme, which was a most interesting one. Some of the topics discussed were: Health and Sanitation, Instruction in Agriculture, Public High Schools, Uniform Examination for Teachers, Teacher Training, Elementary Schools, and Work of the County Superintendent.

The session at which Health and Sanitation were discussed was exceedingly interesting. Dr. W. S. Rankin, secretary of the North Carolina Board of Health, discussed Health and Sanitation. Dr. Jno. A. Ferrell, representing the Hookworm Commission of the North Carolina Board of Health, spoke briefly of investigations which show the widespread prevalence of hookworm disease in North Carolina. He explained that in theory the eradication of the disease was easy, but in practice a great problem, the solution of which depended upon educational work. Many questions were asked and requests made that cases be described as they usually are before and after treatment. Prof. Highsmith, of Wake Forest College, cited two or three interesting cases he had seen. Then Superintendent Thompson, of Onslow county, spoke of the wonderful improvements which had resulted among hookworm victims in his county since hundreds of people had been cured of the disease. He named and described several cases which had come under his observation, and the results effected by the cure of the disease were wonderful. Concluding his remarks, he introduced the following resolution:

Whereas we, the members of the Association of County Superintendents of Schools of North Carolina are convinced of the widespread prevalence of hookworm disease in the State, and that the disease occasions inestimable loss to the State in lives, vitality, citizenship and material wealth; and whereas the disease is both preventable and curable,

Be it resolved, that the Association hereby pledges its co-operation in all well organized movements for the eradication of the disease; and further realizing that such a movement has already been inaugurated, we recommend that the State take such steps as may be found necessary to aid in accomplishing the desired end.

Instead of referring the resolution to the committee on rules, the rules were suspended and the resolution voted on and adopted without a dissenting vote.

The meeting adjourned Friday after a most successful and pleasant session.

The Lash of a Fiend

would have been about as welcome to A. Cooper, of Oswego, N. Y., as a merciless lung-racking cough that defied all remedies for years. "It was most troublesome at night," he writes, "nothing helped me till I used Dr King's New Discovery which cured me completely. I never cough at night now." Millions know its matchless merit for stubborn colds, obstinate coughs, sore lungs, lagrippe, asthma, hemorrhage, croup, whooping cough, or hay fever. It relieves quickly and never fails to satisfy. Shoemaking Secrets

The most important part of a shoe—wear considered—is the sole. The best old-method tanned sole leather is none too good for this purpose, yet many manufacturers use quick tannages of cheap leathers and "fill" the soles with glucose and other adulterations to cover defects. The insole in some shoes is cut from such thin stock that it cannot be channelled to receive the stitch when the upper and the welt are sewed on. A piece of canvas is often substituted for the leather, channelled up to hold the shoe together.

There are no secrets about the Craddock Shoe. The soles, insole (5) and outer sole (4), come from the very finest, toughest and the most expensive sole leather money can buy. The insole is as heavy as lots of makers use for outer soles.

The counters (3) are the best one-piece counters made from the best sole leather. Only one grade of lining—the best—is used all the way through. The top lift (2) of the heel in the Craddock Shoe costs more than the whole heel and top lift of some other shoes made at this price. Vamps (7), tops (8), facings and stays (9) are all cut from pieces of the finest leather.

Counters are often made of canvas stiffened with glue. They cost less than solid leather, but the heat from the foot crumples them. Toe boxes, too, can be made of canvas instead of leather, and sometimes for linings a cheap grade is substituted away down inside where you can't see. Heels are almost always made of pieces of sole leather fitted together in glue; sometimes the very worst of scrap is used, topped with a fair grade of "top lift". These are the parts the man who wears the shoe never sees. He buys these on faith. There are lots of other secrets in the shoe business.

The Craddock Shoe is not "skinned" in any particular. There are no hidden weaknesses to develop after the shoe is bought. There are no dishonest savings or profits—taken from worth and wear.

The Craddock Shoe, made in all leathers, sold for $3.50 and $4.00 everywhere, will wear 30 days longer than any other shoe at the same price.

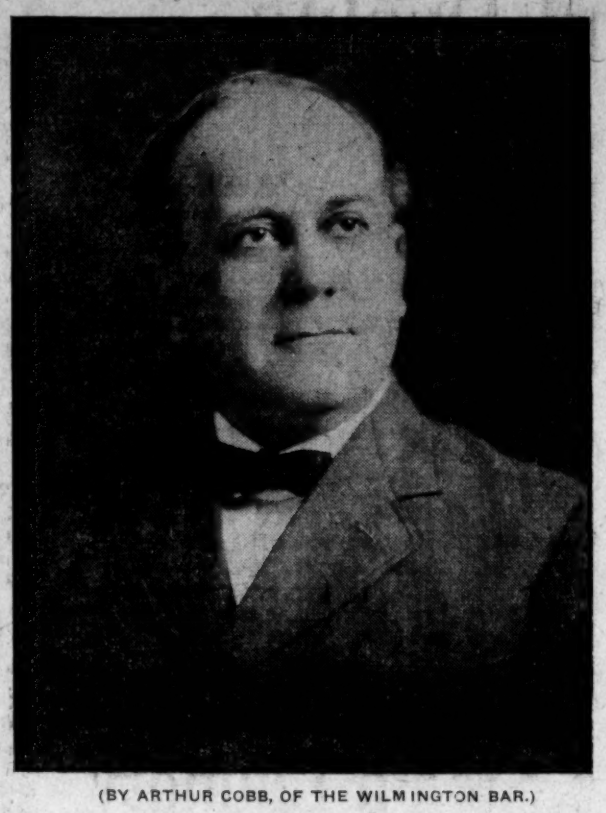
A Sketch of the Life of Iredell Meares, Esq.



(BY ARTHUR COBB, OF THE WILMINGTON BAR.)

Iredell Meares was born in Raleigh, N. C., on the 15th of December, 1850. His father was Thomas D. Meares, of Wilmington, an able lawyer, one of the most finished orators of the Cape Fear section and a prominent leader of the Whig party. His mother was Jane Moore Iredell, a daughter of James Iredell, the younger, Governor of North Carolina, United States Senator and one of the ablest lawyers and public men of his day. The father of James Iredell, the younger, Mr. Meares' great grandfather, was James Iredell, the senior, one of the greatest men North Carolina has given to the Nation. His preeminent ability, depth of learning and public services were recognized by the first President of the country when Washington appointed him to the bench of the United States Supreme Court. His opinions written while a member of that body have permanently established him one of the ablest and deepest thinkers and clearest reasoners whose influence made for the permanency of American institutions in the trying times of national birth. Mr. Meares' paternal grandfather, William B. Meares, was one of the leading lawyers and distinguished public men of ante-bellum days, and a leader of the Whigs.

The early childhood of Mr. Meares was spent in Southport, old Smithville, where his father had a summer home. In 1861 Mr. Meares' father purchased a plantation near the present site of Cleveland, N. C., and there Mr. Meares lived until his family returned to Wilmington in 1867, his father's fortunes being wrecked by the Civil War. Mr. Meares' father died in the Fall of 1871, leaving eight children. At the age of 12, after having attended school for only 18 months, Mr. Meares went to work as an office boy with the firm of James & Meares. From this time Mr. Meares had to earn not only his own living but aid in the support of others. For several years he was employed as a clerk in Wilmington until 1878, when he went to New York, eventually to become a traveling salesman for a wholesale coffee house, introducing their goods to the Southern trade.

From childhood Mr. Meares desired a liberal education and his ambitions impelled him to follow in the steps of his father and grandfathers, and become a lawyer. In 1881 he returned to Wilmington and clerked in the freight office of the Seaboard Air Line and later became bookkeeper in the office of H. Brunhild & Brother. He gave up his position as traveling salesman for clerical work in Wilmington that he might have more time for study and be able to seek the guidance of the older and able men among whom he had spent his youth. During his youth and younger manhood Mr. Meares studied earnestly and read broadly, toiling assiduously over text books that his more fortunate companions studied in college and continuously enriching his mind by reading the classics and great works of literature and history. During this period of his life Mr. Meares sought and won the friendship of men of the type of the late Col. Robert Strange, Col. Duncan K. MacRae, Hon. George Davis and Judge Risden T. Bennett. To the influence and counsel of these great men of the Cape Fear can be traced many of the characteristics of Mr. Meares. Through the influence of Col. Bennett, Mr. Meares was in 1885 appointed special deputy collector of the port of Wilmington, and served in this capacity until his admission to the bar in 1889. During his term of office Mr. Meares pursued the study of law under the direction and guidance of the late Col. Thos. W. Strange and his friend, Mr. Eugene S. Martin. While deputy collector Mr. Meares had occasion to investigate certain rebates on cotton ties that were being collected by exporters of cotton from the government. As a result of his work the payment of rebates was stopped as illegal. Since 1889 Mr. Meares has been an active member of the bar of Wilmington and has won a position of State-wide prominence in his profession, having for a number of years been connected as counsel with much of the more important litigation of his section of the State in both state and federal courts. He has appeared as counsel in a number of causes that have become recognized as "leading cases" in the reports of North Carolina. He has been complimented by the Supreme Court of the state by the mention of his name in commendation of his brief in the opinion of the court, a compliment which had been paid but once before in the history of the court. Mr. Meares was until after the adoption of the constitutional amendment identified with the Democratic party. He took a prominent part in the campaign of 1898 and served that year in the well remembered Wilmington Revolution on the special committee of twenty-five appointed by the mass meeting of the citizens of the city. He afterwards wrote a history of the movement in which he maintained that it was a social and not a political revolution; that it was the assertion of the Anglo-Saxon's determination to govern himself; and his account of it was widely scattered over the state by the chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee, Mr. Simmons, in the campaign for the Constitutional Amendment in 1900. In this campaign Mr. Meares advocated the adoption of the amendment on the grounds that it would give opportunity for the full discussion of economic questions and the division of parties upon lines of intellectual conviction. He maintained that the effect of citizens lining up in the support of one party, whether approving or not its economic theories, was to dwarf the intellectual development of the state and prevent the proper consideration of public questions that come from discussions. Since the adoption of the Constitutional Amendment Mr. Meares has been independent in his political views. He has not participated in the general primaries of either party, but has taken an interested part in the municipal affairs of his city. In 1904 the name of Mr. Meares was presented for consideration to the Democratic party of the Sixth District for Congress by a number of the representative citizens of Wilmington. Mr. Meares declined to be a candidate, stating that as his political views were not in accord with the policies of the National Democratic party he did not feel that he had a right to accept the nomination even if he could obtain it. In 1904 he expressed his determination to vote for Theodore Roosevelt. In 1908 he actively supported Taft for President and delivered a number of speeches in the campaign. As stating the views of Mr. Meares, it is not inappropriate to quote from the card published by him at that time, giving his reasons for his action. He said in part:

"The promise of the constitutional amendment was intellectual freedom to the white man, as well as political disfranchisement to the negro. The latter has been accomplished. The former is yet to be fully exercised. It was argued in support of the measure that the political conditions then existing, which involved the condonation of questionable methods in elections, were tending to destroy public respect for the sanctity of the ballot box. The negro once removed from participation in politics would admit of intelligent consideration by the electors of public issues. It was recognized that the voting by men of diverse views for the same party regardless of their convictions, was a detriment to the highest ideals of citizenship. * * * * * * the asset of the one party we exercise little influence upon its policies; adverse to the other, we can expect nothing; and by each we are little regarded.

"* * * This subordination of our views and actions as individual electors has been a distinct loss to the greater upbuilding of the commonwealth. The foundation of a republican government is found in a sturdy, manly, thoughtful and self-asserting citizenship which may be represented but not controlled. The situation has precluded an intelligent discussion before the people of economic questions as to municipal, county and State issues, but especially so as to the great National and international problems of government. * * *

* * * The question presents itself, however, to every individual elector of North Carolina: How long, after the elimination of the negro vote, are we to continue voting in one way without regard to the issues that affect both our personal and the public welfare?

"The Civil War was ended nearly a half century ago. The men who imposed upon us reconstruction are dead. The men who redeemed the State from the evils of reconstruction have been gathered to their forefathers. * * * There are great issues which confront us, both in State and National affairs, and upon the right solution of each much of our future welfare depends. They are issues of the future. If, as a people, we wish to become live, virile and forceful citizens of this great State and this great Nation, we must, as individuals, give intelligent thought to public questions and let our actions at the polls reflect our convictions."

Mr. Meares wrote a number of articles bearing on, and circulated during this campaign, among which were "Bank Deposit Guaranty—An Opposition View," "Mix Brains and Ballots—The Day for Intellectual Voting," "Mr. Taft's Judicial Decisions as They Relate to the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and Labor Strikes," and "Is the South to be Humiliated—An Appeal to Southern Manhood."

After the death of Judge Purnell the name of Mr. Meares was mentioned in connection with the appointment of a judge of the United States District Court for the Eastern District of North Carolina. Indicative of the high regard in which Mr. Meares is held by his fellow members of the bar was the presentation of his name and his endorsement by the bar to President Taft immediately after his inauguration. This endorsement was in part as follows:

"We present to your consideration, without the least disparagement of others who may be suggested to you, Iredell Meares, Esq., of the city of Wilmington, North Carolina, as a man well fitted to fulfill all the requirements of this honorable office, with credit to himself and satisfaction to the bar of the district. In the enjoyment of splendid physical and mental activity, at the age of 52 years, and of a reputation both personal and professional, well sustained for many years, he has by close application and patient study attained a liberal and broad knowledge of the law and familiarity with the procedure in all the courts, both State and Federal. He commands the repect of his local and State bar and is recognized throughout the State as an able lawyer.

"He is a member and one of the Vice Presidents of the North Carolina Bar Association.

"He is a well trained lawyer, a laborious student, accustomed to habits of legal research, writes clearly and cogently upon propositions of law, and, we believe, if asked, the judges of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, for the Fourth Circuit, or the Supreme Court Justices of this State, would cheerfully bear testimony to his legal qualifications for this office."

This testimonial of esteem was signed by Junius Davis, Herbert McClammy, E. S. Martin, A. G. Ricaud, A. M. Waddell, George Rountree, A. H. Pait, Geo. H. Howell, S. M. Empie, L. Clayton Grant, Walter P. Gafford, Marsden Bellamy, Jr., Thos. W. Davis, Graham Kenan, R. W. Herring, Cameron F. MacRae, Jas. C. MacRae, Jr., Arthur Cobb, R. G. Grady, Thos. K. Woody, Chas. C. Loughlin, W. B. McKoy, C. D. Weeks W. P. Mangum Turner, Robert Ruark, Woodus Kellum, Fred W. Bonitz, Jos. W. Little, A. S. Williams, Geo. L. Peschau, B. G. Empie.

Mr. Meares has been a frequent contributor to the press in the discussion of public questions. Aside from his speeches on political matters he has delivered addresses on numerous public occasions. He delivered the address of welcome on the assemblage of the Masons of the State in commemoriam of the Centenary of St. John's Lodge. He made the opening address when the Southern Baptist Association convened in Wilmington. His address on "The Administration of Law" delivered in 1902 at the laying of the cornerstone of the Court House of New Hanover county is one of the most scholarly, forceful and learned addresses ever delivered in the State. In September, 1907, he published in the Charlotte Observer several articles on "North Carolina Rate Legislation and Agitation, and the Constitutional Relation of the State and Federal Courts." These articles have since been published as a pamphlet and widely read and most favorably commented on throughout the State. The editorial expressions of the Charlotte Observer and of other papers in the State were most laudatory and the articles have been credited with having exercised a great influence for conservatism and peace on the thought of the press and leaders in public affairs.

Mr. Meares' address delivered before the North Carolina Retail Merchants' Association in June, 1908, on "Deep Waterways for the South," was widely published and commended generally by the press. The Wilmington Star in reprinting this speech commented as follows:

"We reprint from the Merchants' Journal of July, 1908, the following address, delivered by Iredell Meares, Esq., of this city, before the North Carolina Retail Merchants' Association, at its session in Charlotte on June 4th, 1908, because:

"1. It is a comprehensive presentation of the advantages of deep waterways for the State the South and the Nation.

"2. It quotes the figures showing the vast sums paid by European and South American Nations for waterway development and shows how, in like progress, the United States is behind other Nations.

"3. It shows the advantages, in transportation facilities and freight savings, to the commerce and the agriculture of North Carolina, which would follow the greater development of her rivers.

"4. It illustrates the argument by statistics of the commerce on the Great Lakes attending upon the Government's improvement of lake harbors, rivers and the Soo Canal.

"5. It points to the greater possibilities of the State, with harbors and rivers deepened, canals and public roads built, and invokes State and National patriotism to their accomplishment."

This article did much toward directing the thought of the people along the Cape Fear river toward the advantages to be found by waterway development.

Mr. Meares is endowed by inheritance with a great intellect and a strong constitution. He has by incessant labor developed his talents to a high degree. His wide experience gives him a broad sympathy with every class of society. He has fought against great odds and by personal endeavor overcome obstacles that would daunt many of the strongest men. He has been a student of public questions since early manhood, and possesses a broad intellectual grasp of the economic problems of the country and is keenly alive to the needs of his State. se 11-1t.

HOTEL AT ALTAPASS.

Rapid Development Along Carolina, Clinchfield and Ohio.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Altapass, N. C., Sept. 10.—The Altapass Inn, the new hotel here, was opened this week to guests just 60 days of the first stone of the foundations were laid.

The hotel is of brick, three stories high and has 40 rooms, 20 of which have private baths. It was erected by the Green River Land Company, of Spartanburg, S. C., and is situated almost on the very crest of the great mountain wall down which the Carolina, Clinchfield & Ohio Railway has built its many-looped track descending into the Catawba Valley. This place is the highest point on the railroad, and here divide the waters that flow to the Gulf of Mexico and those which find their way into the Atlantic Ocean on the Carolina coast. From a nearby eminence the highest land east of the Rockies is in sight—Mt. Mitchell; also that curious geological freak, Table Rock. From the top of a three or four hundred foot elevation south of Altapass a greater expanse of land surface is visible than at any other point in the entire Appalachian system of mountains. For league beyond league the mountains lift themselves, like wooded ledges, to great and yet greater heights until distances of 50 and 60 miles are within the eye's reach in the clear air.

The hotel opens under the management of Miss Hutson, of Spartanburg, assisted by Mr. S. J. Ramage, of Philadelphia. It will remain open the year round for both the traveling and tourist public.

BATTLESHIP BADLY DAMAGED.

Reported That North Dakota Will Be Detached From the Fleet.

Newport News, Va., Sept. 9.—Although no official information has been given out, it is understood that the naval board of inquiry has discovered that the four boilers located in the fire room of the battleship North Dakota in which the fatal fuel oil blaze occurred yesterday, were seriously damaged. The ship probably will be detached from the fleet and ordered to the Norfolk navy yard for repairs.

The investigating board, composed of Captain Cove, of the Delaware; Lieutenant Commander Price, of the Delaware, and Lieutenant Commander Proctor, of the Connecticut, assembled on board the North Dakota this morning at 10 o'clock and began work. At 7 o'clock the members of the board returned to the Connecticut, Rear Admiral Schroeder's flagship, ready to formulate their report, it is said.

No details concerning the cause of the fire can be learned ashore. Half a dozen theories are still going the rounds, but just what happened will not be known until the report of the board is made public. Report has it that Fireman Streit, one of the three men who lost their lives in the fire room tragedy, was drowned when the blazing compartment was flooded with water. The other two are said to have been taken out dead or dying before the water was turned in. It was necessary to flood the fire-room without delay because of the proximity of powder magazines.

The bodies of the three dead men were taken to the Portsmouth, Va., navy yard today. All of the injured are doing nicely and will recover. Machinist Andrews is the most seriously hurt.

The first and second squadrons of the battleship fleet will leave Sunday to join the third and fourth squadrons on the Southern drill grounds. It is not believed that the North Dakota will go.

HUGHES PROMOTION.

Will First Become Associate and Then Chief Justice.

Washington, Sept. 9.—If Governor Hughes is to be made Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States he will be promoted from an Associate Justiceship. Reports that the nomination of the Governor as an Associate Justice would be withdrawn and his name sent to the Senate as Chief Justice have been put to rest by arrangements that the New York executive has been making to take up his duties on the bench on the second Monday in October.

It was reported from Albany last night that the Governor will relinquish his present office in about three weeks and immediately thereafter remove to Washington preparatory to taking the oath of office on the first day the court is in session next term.

As Congress does not convene until December the new Associate Justice will have at least two months to serve in a subordinate position on the bench. President Taft has not yet made it plain just what position he will occupy after that period.

Until the successor of the late Justice Fuller takes his oath of office, Associate Justice Harland will act as Presiding Justice. Justice Harlan is the senior member of the court, both in point of age and length of service.

TYPEWRITER THAT SENDS TELEGRAMS

Wonderful Electrical Invention in Operation Between New York and Philadelphia.

(New York Financial and Industrial Record.)

When Samuel F. B. Morse devised the means of sending messages by dots and dashes over metal wires he was hailed as one of the greatest inventors the world had ever known. But there was one serious drawback to the Morse system—no one but an expert telegrapher could send a message.

For fifty years electrical experts have been trying to invent some method whereby anyone who knew how to spell could send a message.

The inestimable value of such a machine, it was recognized, would bring great and speedy wealth to owner and inventor.

Little wonder, then, that Dr. G. A. Cardwell's American Telegraph and Typewriting invention has aroused interest in every direction.

Exactly resembling a typewriter with a similar keyboard, anyone who can operate a typewriter can send telegraph messages by this machine. Press down the correct keys to spell the word and the exact characters immediately appear on the receiving instrument hundreds of thousands of miles away.

Working over telegraph or telephone wire alike, it requires no expert operator and less electricity than the Morse instrument, messages being automatically recorded on receiving typewriter.

With a four-fold greater speed, the operator does not depend upon his hearing of dots and dashes as the American Telegraph and Typewriter writes the message in plain English, eliminating mistakes and cost of expert operator.

Already it is occupying the great railroad field. Its accurate method of train dispatching having been tested over a year on the Long Island (Pennsylvania System). Many large roads are now ordering the machines.

Recalling the great fortunes realized from the telegraph and telephone, the logical conclusion is hard to escape that this, the next greatest invention to them, will closely follow their precedent in bringing large wealth to the company.

A representative of The Financial Record called at the office of the company, 27 William St., New York City, saw the machines in operation between New York and Philadelphia and the original orders from the railroads, newspapers and United States Government. He also saw written proposals from some of the largest banking houses in the street to finance the entire proposition, which is mighty conclusive evidence as to value placed upon this invention by the keenest financiers in the country.

The success of the company should be rapid and the profits made extremely large. **

Don't Break Down.

Severe strains on the vital organs, like strains on machinery, cause break-downs. You can't over-tax stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels or nerves without serious danger to yourself. If you are weak or run-down, or under strain of any kind, take Electric Bitters the matchless, tonic medicine. Mrs. J. E. Van de Sande, of Kirkland, Ill., writes: "That I did not break down, while enduring a most severe strain, for three months, is due wholly to Electric Bitters." Use them and enjoy health and strength. Satisfaction positively guaranteed. 50c. at Robert R. Bellamy's.

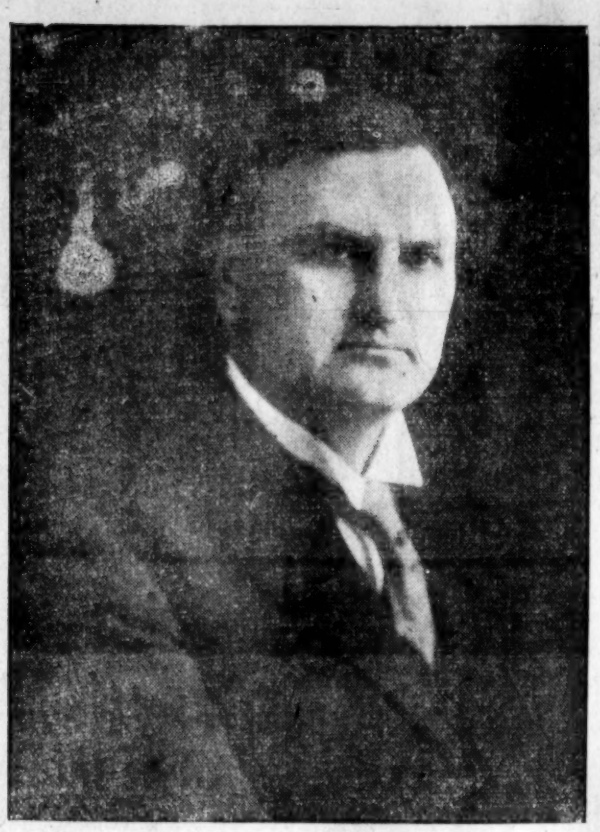
CONGRESSMAN H. L. GODWIN,

Candidate for Re-nomination.

A MAN FOR THE PEOPLE.



ATTACK UPON GODWIN REPUDIATED.

(Written by W. F. Jones.)

A worthy specimen of that brand of politics termed "peanut", is now being broadcasted in the shape of small handbills, subscribed to by one who designates himself "Voter", and whose evident purpose is to besmirch the character of the Hon. Hannibal L. Godwin, without offering any argument for his own candidate, or assigning any reasons why he is entitled to the support of the people of New Hanover county as against Mr. Godwin.

The handbill referred to is entitled to small notice from the intelligent public, by reason of the fact that it does not bear the signature of its author, deals in matters not pertinent to the issues involved between the candidates in this campaign, and is clearly the output of a narrow-guaged intellect, incapable of dealing fair and squarely with those differing with him upon questions of public concern.

As to the handbill argument that Mr. Godwin has accomplished nothing in Congress, and has failed to procure appropriations for his district, and that he has no chance for re-election. We ask why this attack upon him? The answer is, that Mr. Godwin's calumniators are perfectly aware of the high estimation in which he is held by his constituency, hence the necessity for an attack upon collateral issues, there being no grounds upon which to base an attack upon his Congressional record. If, with his ability as a lawyer, and past experience as a Congressman, Mr. Godwin has been unable to accomplish what "Voter" would have him accomplish, it is a foregone conclusion that the opposing candidate, who is inexperienced, and scarcely known beyond the limits of Bladen county, cannot be depended upon to produce better results. At any rate, Mr. Godwin's supporters are perfectly contented to leave the determination of the matter to the voters of the Sixth Congressional District, and are confident that the decision reached at the primary September 15th, will be a clear vindication of Mr. Godwin's record as a Congressman, and a just rebuke to those who have attempted to thwart the people's choice.

Coming to the "mudslinging" part of the handbill: Here Mr. Godwin is charged with a fraudulent effort to obtain unfair advantage of an alleged lunatic, by entering suit for specific performance of a contract for a small lot in the town of Dunn, in support of which charge, quotations are made from the records of the Superior Court of Harnett county, and from the decision of the Supreme Court in the case of Godwin vs. Parker, which decision was handed down by that tribunal at its February term. Without going into the legal refinements, upon which the Superior Court decision was reversed, it is sufficient to observe that the decision given Mr. Godwin by the lower court, presided over by Judge W. R. Allen, who is easily one of the most distinguished lawyers in North Carolina, is conclusive argument that there were merits in Mr. Godwin's complaint, and ample grounds upon which to base an action. This conclusion is strengthened by the answers given by the jury to the several issues involved, with which they were, perhaps, personally acquainted, as well as with the parties to the transaction. At any rate, this little land suit in Harnett county has nothing to do with the issues involved in this campaign and it is only resorted to by Mr. Godwin's calumniators as a subterfuge, there being no other grounds upon which to base an attack upon him as a citizen, lawyer and Congressman.

Mr. Godwin has shown the good taste to ignore those who would calumniate him under cover, and his supporters, at least in this county, have refrained from attacking, in any manner, his opponent, Mr. Clark, and have all along conceded to that gentleman the attributes of a clean business man and good citizen, but deny that he is Godwin's superior from any standpoint, or that he has the ability to improve upon, or to cope with, the work accomplished by Mr. Godwin in the House of Representatives. The Godwin supporters in New Hanover county propose to wage a clean, conservative campaign, based upon the merits of their man, and not upon the demerits of Mr. Clark, and they have all the assurance that the decision reached by the people on September 15th will re-nominate their man, and will be of such a majority as to place "Voter" and his clique in the backgrounds for the next two years at least.

SANITARY REGULATIONS.

Rev. J. R. Marshall Writes Interestingly on Important Subject.

Editor Morning Star:

In reading in the Star of the wrangling among our city fathers over the sanitary questions, reminded me of—

A visit I took some time ago to a large lumber mill, where thousands of feet of lumber were sawn daily.

At this mill they had an arrangement to carry off all the refuge—such as slabs, trash, bark, cut-off blocks, etc., to a never ending fire, beyond a large brick wall, where all such refuge was burned. I was very much interested in this machinery and inspected it carefully. About 400 feet from the mill was a large brick wall of solid masonry about 8 feet thick, 15 feet high and 40 feet long, with a large iron roller arranged above the top and a few feet beyond the wall. At the mill there was another roller near the ground.

Over these rollers ran two, large endless chains, leading from the mill to the brick wall and over this large roller. Upon this chain was fastened several carriers, somewhat in the shape and size of a one horse wagon body. The carriers were loaded at the mill with all such waste refuge as they wished to get rid of, and it was carried and dumped over the wall into a continual fire.

This endless set of chains with their carriers were being drawn continually by machinery at the mill, over this brick wall and back to the mill. All carriers were bottom up going to the mill and top up going to the wall. The machinery would be stopped at the mill just long enough to load the carriers then it would move up a little and load another carrier, so that all carriers were loaded going to the wall, and unloaded going to the mill.

As I stood admiring this wonderful and yet simple invention, I inquired of myself, what should I call it? Well, I said to myself, it is a scavenger, sanatorium and crematory. What a wonderful machine! It takes up all the old bark, slabs, blocks, etc., that would soon be decaying, and make the mill quite an unsanitary proposition, and carries it to the crematory and turns it into healthful ashes, that can be used for sanitary purposes.

Thinking over the great advantages of this little, simple machine, I said, would this not be a grand thing for our little city by the sea. Suppose we had just such a machinery as this at the outskirts of our city where all trash, garbage, dead animals, and all such stuff, that is hauled now by the city carts, and dumped out to send their perfumes to the nostrils of the suburban residents, could be dumped over into such a fire and burned to ashes. Then, indeed, would we have a sanatorium, a crematory and a scavenger to be proud of.

This great sewerage system into which so many thousands of dollars are to be burried, so that all filth from the closets and elsewhere, may be turned into the bottom of the river to lie there and decay, only when it may be stirred up by the wheels and propellers of every passing steamer, and then drawn up into the water works to be used in our kitchens for cooking and other purposes, will not compare in a sanitary point of view, to this little, simple machine, that would not cost, I presume, over $10,000.

I would be glad if our city fathers would look into this matter and act upon it. Respectfully,

J. R. MARSHALL.

Why Is Sugar Sweet?

If sugar did not dissolve in the mouth you could not taste the sweet. GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC is as strong as the strongest bitter tonic, but you do not taste the bitter because the ingredients do not dissolve in the mouth, but do dissolve readily in the acids of the stomach. VITAL WASHINGTON NEWS.

Tavenner, "Writer and Thinker," Gives Facts as They Exist.

(By Clyde H. Tavenner.)

Washington, Sept. 10.—Spending nearly $200,000 a day more than it took in, the government closed the month of August with a deficit approximating $5,000,000, which is indicative of a deficit of $60,000,000 for this fiscal year as against a deficit of $19,480,752.43 for the last fiscal year.

This deficit was due to two principal causes: First, the unparalleled extravagance of the standpat faction of the Republican party, which is in control of the government. Second, Failure of the Payne-Aldrich tariff law to produce sufficient revenue to meet the expenses of the government.

Excess of expenditures over receipts is not new in the history of the party now in power. For three or four years now the government has been closing its books each night facing a big deficit in the day's business. But the average American does not know this. While there would be no justification for stating in this dispatch that the big press associations misstate the facts, there is ample justification for saying that the facts are so stated that the average man does not understand them.

For instance, the statement of the Treasury issued at the close of business August 27th, shows that the excess of expenditures over receipts for July and the first 27 days of August, 1910, amounted to $14,431,727.34, or an average of $288,634.54 for each banking day in that period. No one could possibly so understand the situation, however, from the reports carried by the big press associations, which invariably give the administration side of the government finances.

If a business firm should spend more money than it took in, day after day, week after week, month after month and year after year, it is but natural to assume that the stockholders would demand a new management. Yet the men in charge of the government have for years been able to overspend the receipts without having been called to account by the public. This can be explained, however, by the fact that the average man is not by any means aware of the actual situation.

Every Democratic worker in the country should have a copy of the 1910 Democratic Campaign Book, which is without doubt the best handbook on the tariff now in print. One of the unusual features of the book, as contrasted with past campaign books, is its utilization of Republican utterances to sustain Democratic arguments. Thirty-six of the 515 pages are made up exclusively of speeches by Republicans, who take the same position on the big 1910 issues as the Democratic leaders. The committee is asking $1 for the book, which goes toward defraying expenses of the Democratic Congressional committee. Not having been favored with contributions by the great industrial concerns of the country, the Democratic committee must rely largely upon contributions from the people. Those who are really unable to contribute $1 to the campaign fund, however, may secure a copy of the campaign book free. Contributions and requests for the book should be addressed to the Hon. Jas. T. Lloyd, chairman National Democratic Congressional Committee, Washington, D. C.

A. & M. FOOTBALL SQUAD.

Season's Outlook is Bright—The Schedule of Games.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

West Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 10.—Manager G. W. Ross, of the 1910 football team of the A. & M. College, has announced his schedule.

As will be seen, the first game to be played in Raleigh will be with the heavy team of Georgetown University of Washington, D. C. Notwithstanding the fact that this is a heady game at such an early date, Coach Green expects to rope his Farmer boys into such a shape they will be able to repeat a similar dose as administered to the "Hilltoppers" during the season of 1908.

The Fair week game will be played on Thursday, Oct. 20th, with Villanova College of Villanova, Pa. By playing this game Fair Week, A. & M. will present to the natives of the Old North State the oportunity of witnessing the style of play of the Northern colleges. For several years Villanova has ranked with the largest colleges of the North, and a great game is to be expected as the Farmers are not easy to down.

Last season the Washington and Lee-A. & M. game was played in Lexington, but owing to the strenuous trip necessary to reach Lexington, W. & L. has agreed to play the game this year in Lynchburg.

The Thanksgiving game, as usual, will be played with Virginia Polytechnic Institute in Norfolk. Last year's defeat will form a great incentive to the men to win this year, as the success or failure of the college football season depends upon the result of the Thanksgiving game with our old rivals.

Prospects for a winning team are very good, as such men of last years team as Capt. Brag at center, Dunn, the all-South Atlantic tackle; Capt. Harrisell, Glenn and Robertson, the fleet half backs, Floyd, the big guard, Seifert and Stofford, the swift ends, are all back in college. Hardie, Surratt, Derby, Clark, Spence, Gore, Baldwin, Poisson, Hurtt, Hall, Sykes, Vicker, Hollman, Jeffreys, Van Eberstein, Sherman and Holding, of last year's scrub team and a very large number of promising candidates from the Freshman class will push some of the regular men hard for a position on the 'Varsity. Regular practice will begin at once.

Coach Eddie Green, of last year's team, who hails from the University of Pennsylvania, will again pilot the Farmer boys on their season's voyage. With a coach with the ability of Eddie Green, and the hard working squad named above, A. & M. will be expected to hold up to their old standard of a victorious team.

THE UNIVERSITY OPENING.

Dr. Venable Speaks—Reception of New Students—Outlook Bright.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Chapel Hill, N. C., Sept. 10.—The 115th session of the University of North Carolina was formally opened Thursday morning when in Gerard Hall President Venable addressed the students at chapel and welcomed back both the old and new men.

In his talk President Venable outlined his future policy for the "greater University" as it has been in the past—to make the University a strong, clean, moral institution and to turn out from its doors strong men who can handle well the reins of the State in all lines. In order to do this he emphasized the necessity of the cooperation of the student body in all things and made an especially strong plea to the upper classes for them to unite their efforts and continue the policy of their predecessors in doing all in their power to abolish hazing.

Thursday in Gerard Hall "College Night" was held and the new students were welcomed to the University by the student body. Short talks were made by several members of the Senior class and the life of the University was set before the new students. Mr. W. A. Does spoke first on the "Honor System" and clearly outlined that phase of college life. Following him Mr. C. E. McIntosh spoke on "Athletics." Mr. J. A. Austin gave a clear outline of the publications at the University; Mr. C. L. Williams set forth the merits of the literary societies, and Mr. E. L. Turlington, president of the Y. M. C. A., gave a brief outline of the work of that institution and the work it accomplishes at the University.

Immediately after the meeting in Gerard Hall broke up with College yells led by "Toky" Garrett, captain of last year's 'Varsity football team and all South-Atlantic tackle, the students were tendered a reception by the Y. M. C. A., where open house was held for the remainder of the night.

The faculty of the University presents a greatly changed appearance for the coming year. Many vacations, resignations and recent elections are responsible for the changes.

Undoubtedly the University has lost some good men but the president, the board of trustees and the heads of departments, who have had a part in the selection of new men, are to be congratulated on their great success in obtaining eminent scholars to fill places which at first appeared hard to fill.

Over 700 students have registered so far and a great many more are expected. The prospects for the season are very bright in all branches of athletics as well as in intellectual advancement.

Dr. Edwin A. Mims, formerly of Trinity College, but elected to the chair of English a year ago upon the resignation of Dr. C. Alphonso Smith, has returned from Europe where he spent last Winter on a year's leave of absence, and has taken up his duties as a member of the faculty of the University. Dr. Mims is one of the best known English students of the South and the State is fortunate indeed in securing so eminent a man to take an influential part in the work of its leading educational institution.

INTERNATIONAL CONGRESS.

Conference on Tuberculosis to be Held in Rome in Sept. 1911.

Official announcement of the Seventh International Congress on Tuberculosis was made today from the American headquarters by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis. The Congress will be held in Rome in 1911 from September 24th to 30th. This gathering, which meets every three years, and was last held in Washington, D. C., in 1908, will be under the direct patronage of the King and Queen of Italy. The secretary general is Prof. Vittorio Ascoli and the president, Prof. Guido Baccelli.

It is expected that an American Committee of 100 will be appointed as the official body representing the United States. Estimating on the present rate of increase, the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis announces that the American committee will be able to give a most flattering report at the Congress. They will be able to announce that the number of tuberculosis agencies in this country has tripled in the three years since the last International Congress, and that more than twice as much money is being spent in the fight against consumption by private societies and institutions, and also that the appropriations for tuberculosis work by Federal, State, municipal and county authorities have quadrupled.

The Congress at Rome will be in three sections, that of etiology and causes of tuberculosis; on pathology and therapeutics, both medical and surgical; and on the social defense against tuberculosis. The names of the presidents of these sections will be announced in the near future.
